

GERMANS ADMIT LOSS OF FORT VAUX TO THE FRENCH

PORTIONS OF STRONGHOLD BLOWN UP BY TEUTONS

London, Nov. 2.—Fort Vaux, one of the most important fortifications captured by the German Crown Prince in his prolonged drive at Verdun has been evacuated by the Germans. The evacuation is announced by Berlin today. Shortly after Fort Douaumont had been retaken and a wide stretch of the front in this region regained by the French in their sudden offensive movement on October 25 it was pointed out that Fort Vaux likewise had been put in a perilous condition.

The French advanced close to the edge of the fortification on its immediate front in their great drive and pushed well beyond on each side, making its fall, in the opinion of observers at the front, only a question of a short time.

The Germans evacuated Fort Vaux during the night, says their official report, without hindrance by the French and after portions of the fort had been blown up. The French continued to pour a heavy fire from their big guns on the fortification.

Virtually all the ground taken by the Germans on the east bank of the Meuse in their winter and spring offensive at Verdun has now, with the fall of Fort Vaux, been lost to them.

French troops operating in the Les Boeufs and Ramecourt sectors on the Somme front also gained yesterday in attacks on the Germans.

The Paris report of last night announcing these advances is in part confirmed by the Berlin official statement today which concludes French gains northeast of Meuse and on the edge of the St. Pierre-Vaast Wood, but declares that the main effort of the French to move forward was sanguinarily repulsed.

The British, likewise, says Berlin, failed in an attack north of Cambeset on the Somme front. London last night reported gains in the Les Boeufs sector, in operations in conjunction with the French but announced today that heavy rain was falling and that there were no noteworthy happenings during the night.

There is no apparent letup in the pressure which General Von Falkenhayn is exerting along the Rumanian northwestern frontier, but in general the Rumanians are reported to be holding him fairly well in check. No new advances of importance are announced today by the German war office.

In the meantime however, military critics are looking shortly for definite news from the province of Dobruja, on the south-east front where no "change in the situation" has been the usual report from both sides for several days past. Field Marshal Von Mackensen is believed to be making preparations for some new stroke in an effort to complete his conquest of this Rumanian province, while from Bucharest comes an official announcement that General Sakharoff, one of the ablest of the Russian generals is expected in the Rumanian capital to take command of the forces in Dobruja.

On the Stokhod in Volhynia, a Russian defeat south of Witoniz is announced by Berlin which reports the capture of more than 1,300 prisoners by General Von Linsingen's troops in this action.

Germans Admit Loss of Fort

Berlin, Nov. 2.—(By wireless to Sayville)—The British attempted to advance on the Somme front north of Courcelette yesterday but were repulsed, the war office announced today. The French gained small advantages in the sectors of Les Boeufs and Ramecourt.

Fort Vaux, on the Verdun front has been evacuated by the Germans.

General Von Linsingen's troops on the eastern front yesterday stormed Russian positions on the left bank of the Stokhod river. They inflicted heavy losses on the Russians, continues the statement and captured more than 1,500 men.

Efforts of the Rumanians to force back Austro-German troops which have invaded their country, failed yesterday, the war office declares. Southeast of Rothenthurn Pass the invaders are making further progress.

Rumanians Pursue Austro-Germans

Bucharest, Nov. 2.—(Via London)—Rumanian forces continue to pursue the retreating Austro-German troops to the west of the Jiu Valley, on the Transylvania, according to the Rumanian official report issued today. Tenon attacks, the statement adds, were repulsed after continued fighting in the Pradova Valley and in the region of Dragostavele. East of the river Alt a battle still is in progress.

Phone Girl Defies Flames

Bethesda, O., Nov. 2.—Fire which broke out here last night, and was not under control until early today, destroyed nine business buildings. Help was secured from Martin's Ferry and Morristown.

Though the building in which she worked was at all times threatened, Miss Clara Phillips, telephone operator, remained pluckily at her post, refusing to take the advice of friends and leave. It was through her bravery it was possible to secure aid of firemen in Martin's Ferry and Morristown.

ACCUSED, KILLS SELF

Niles, O., Nov. 2.—Edward N. Stephenson, 15, shot himself in the head last night with a revolver and died later. He had been accused of taking money from the Niles High School.

Villistas Loot A Train; Take Women's Clothes

Chihuahua City, Mexico, Nov. 1.—(Via El Paso Junction)—Nov. 2.—After shooting the 29 Carranza military guards of the south bound passenger train which left Juarez Monday, Villa bandits looted the train, robbed the passengers and even took the clothing from the women passengers. Dr. Haffner, a German passenger on the train who was mistaken by the bandits for an American, was struck over the head with a gun by one of the Villistas. The bandits who were in command of Murga Brothers and Silvestre Quevedo, then abandoned the train, carrying the loot away in mule drawn wagons.

ROBBER GET $6,000

Braidwood, Ill., Nov. 2.—Four robbers blew the safe of the private bank of W. H. Odell and Company here last night and escaped in an automobile with $6,000. The men cut all wires leading into the little village and had made good their escape.

MANY HEAR ROOSEVELT AT TOLEDO

Toledo, O., Nov. 2.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt made the first of two Ohio speeches here today. He arrived from New York at 10:30 and will leave at 3:35 for Cleveland where he will speak tonight.

Colonel Roosevelt began speaking in Memorial Hall here at noon. Long before that hour the hall was jammed and streets in the vicinity of the hall were thronged.

The colonel was constantly under heavy police guard. Preceding the speech, Colonel Roosevelt rode in an automobile leading a parade from the Union Station to a hotel. Several had decorated cars in line. At the hotel, an informal reception was held. Walter F. Brown, former chairman of the Ohio Progressive Committee, was among those who greeted Colonel Roosevelt.

The colonel at the hall practically repeated the speech he made last Friday at the Chicago Stock Yards. In addition he applied the eagle to the Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, who addressed a Democratic meeting here last night, because of the administration policies in Mexico.

DEATH OVERTAKES HIM

Toledo, O., Nov. 2.—C. J. Thomas, of Bettsville, Ohio, former post master of that village, died here today just as he was entering Memorial Hall to hear Theodore Roosevelt speak for Hughes. Thomas was a civil war veteran, aged 69.

AVIATOR FORCED TO DESCEND

Erie, Pa., Nov. 2.—Victor Carlstrom, flying from Chicago to New York, landed here at 11:25 o'clock because of engine trouble. He was unable to say how long he would be delayed.

NO COAL—NO WORK

Sandusky, O., Nov. 2.—The dredge Manner which was expected to come to Sandusky to do some work in the channel in Sandusky Bay, will not come, owing to the high price of coal. U. S. accused of taking money from Engineer Savard was informed today.

NORWEGIAN SHIPS SUNK

Lisbon, Nov. 2.—(Via Paris)—The Norwegian steamship Tromp of 175 tons has been sunk.

London, Nov. 2.—The sinking of the 3,000 ton Norwegian steamship Delta, is reported by Lloyds.

BREAD 15C. PER LOAF

Helena, Mont., Nov. 2.—Bread sold here today at 15 cents for a loaf, or two for 25 cents. The price has been three for 25 cents.

Wheat Prices Show Bulge

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Price bulges of as much as 5 3/8 cents a bushel were shown on some transactions here today in wheat. The chief reason for the advance was a report that rains in Argentina had turned out to be insufficient to relieve the drought, and that Argentine papers were urging an embargo on exports.

NEW RECORD FOR U. S. STEEL

New York, Nov. 2.—United States Steel common shares sold at the new high record of 122 1/4, shortly after the opening of today's market, the stock being absorbed in large individual lots. This exceeds its previous maximum by half a point. It also passed the preferred stock which sold at 122.

$7 FOR COAL

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 2.—Representatives of eastern independent distributors here yesterday offered local dealers $7 a ton for coal on the car but the orders could not be taken because the shortage in cars prevents delivery. This was the highest price ever offered for coal in this section, dealers declared.

DETECTIVES DEAD

Toledo, O., Nov. 2.—John Robson, formerly chief of the Lake Shore Railroad detective force, and James R. Smith, until recently inspector of the city detective force, died suddenly last night. Robson was 72 and Smith 58. They were intimate friends and lived in the same neighborhood.

RAILROADS SUBMIT REPORTS ON CARS

Columbus, O., Nov. 2.—The 20 or more coal carrying roads operating in Ohio were reporting to the State Utilities Commission today the number of coal cars in transit, the number of loaded cars at stations and the number of days detention of these cars.

Upon the basis of these reports, supplemented by reports of the seven state inspectors investigating the subject, the Utilities Commission will undertake to determine the cause of the car shortage and the resulting high prices of coal.

The reports from the railroads show the number of cars in transit and at stations on October 30. The demurrage on these cars reported detained by the various roads was from 1 to 5 days.

Attorney General Turner today transmitted to the Public Utilities Commission a copy of a letter he had received from the Columbus Railway Power and Light Company, which has been conducting a special investigation of the car shortage.

W. C. L. Bulkley, purchasing agent for the street railroad company, reported there are on the Locking Valley between Congo and Gibson, many empty cars on house tracks, and that a train load of empties could easily have been gathered up on the Kanawha and Michigan and that there were idle engines and train crews laid off at Hobson. At Athens he said there were empty gondolas on the Baltimore and Ohio which the section boss told him stood for several days.

"The Kanawha Operators Association say that the K. and M. and New York Central lines could do more in the matter of car service and have sent committees to wait upon officials of these roads asking for better service," says Bulkley's report. Bulkley's letter said the New York Central lines are sacrificing everything to take care of ore shipments and finished products from the mills. The big coal operators he said are doing everything to take care of their contracts while the small operators with no contract obligations are reaping the harvest of high prices.

Kentucky mines are not shipping on orders at all but have simply laid down and refuse to fill low priced contracts," Bulkley reports. Lake shipments, he said, have practically ceased and about 75 per cent of coal is now moving on commercial business.

The Utilities Commission today received from the Canton Chamber of Commerce a request for the investigation of the coal shortage declaring that many more people in that city and elsewhere would suffer should cold weather set in. When reports of all railroads are filed with the Utilities Commission late today it is expected to show more than 15,000 loaded coal cars in transit and at stations in Ohio on October 30.

Coal operators report that manufacturers and big coal dealers are at the mines with their check books ready to buy coal at almost any price and that it is being practically auctioned off by operators free from contract obligations. As high as $5 a ton is being received at the mines in Ohio and West Virginia and a report from Johnstown, Penn., here today was that $7 a ton was bid for coal, there but that orders could not be taken, because of a lack of cars.

Manufacturers and big coal users have suggested to some of the railroads the use of box cars or hopper cars for hauling coal. Railroad officials say box cars are as scarce as the gondolas and that it is difficult to load them.

WAR HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR INCREASED COST OF BURIALS

New York, Nov. 2.—The European war is held responsible for the increase in the cost of burial supplies and a consequent advance announced today by undertakers for funeral services. Owing to the war, it was said, "undertakers' hardware"—name plates and coffin handles—has risen in price from 20 to 40 percent, due to the fact, the supply men claim, that the chemicals used to give the nickel effect is not now being imported. It is estimated that even the cheapest coffin cost $5 more than formerly.

Wholesale dealers in burial supplies have notified undertakers throughout the city of a general advance in the trade. To offset the advance, the undertakers are considering the advisability of entering upon a campaign in favor of cremation.

SIX AMERICANS LOST LIVES ON THE MARINA

SAYS WOMEN WILL CLASH

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 3.—That the spectacle of woman suffragists in several cities clashing at street meetings because of their enthusiasm for rival presidential candidates, will make men realize that women have no business in politics is the opinion expressed today by Mrs. Florence Goff Schwarz, business secretary of the Cincinnati and Hamilton County Association, opposed to woman suffrage. Mrs. Schwarz cites reports from Portland, Oregon, Seattle, Washington, and other cities where crowds of women have participated in street disturbances as the result of political meetings.

HELLO GIRLS ARE NOT TO STRIKE

Toledo, O., Nov. 2.—A proposal for a general strike of telephone girls on election night was voted down last night at a meeting of a new telephone operators' union. They are asking a new wage scale.

Kenton, O., Nov. 2.—Despondent because of ill health, Wesley Ellis, 39, prominent farmer of this county, committed suicide, by hanging himself from a tree on his farm.

HUNTING VICTIM

"SCHOOL KIDS" SEEK TO DEFEAT MEASURE

Columbus, O., Nov. 2.—The vote next Tuesday on the proposed 5 mill increase in the Columbus school levy, has met with opposition from pupils of the seventh grade of the Mound street school, headed by Huston Thomas, aged 12, son of Clerk of Council James J. Thomas. They are making a hard fight to defeat the vote, which is said to be necessary to bring the school fund up to a point where the schools can be operated for the full term. "Defeat the levy and give us two months more vacation," is the battle cry of the youthful campaigners. The young politicians said there was no use talking to the pupils' fathers as they will vote for the measure because they want the boys to go to school "all the time" but he declared that all the bachelors in town were for the defeat of the measure and the lengthened vacation period.

New London, Conn., Nov. 2.—Ten million dollars worth of dye-stuffs and drugs, and it was said "possibly stocks, bonds and precious stones," comprise the cargo of the German submarine merchantman Deutschland, according to a statement by Captain Paul Koenig, commander of the craft.

First of the under-sea merchantmen by use of which Germany hopes to keep open a trade route with the United States, the Deutschland, according to her captain, is at present the only submarine of that fleet. The Bremen, which started a voyage from the city after which she was named on August 26, he said, has been given up as lost. He thought she "must have struck a mine," but he added, "she has not fallen a victim to this almost blockade. I am sure of that."

The Amerika, which some reports have indicated was a merchant submarine captured by the British, never existed, Captain Koenig asserted.

Describing a visit to the German army headquarters on the east front, where he was the guest of the Kaiser at dinner, Captain Koenig said he found the emperor "in good health," "a little white and drawn, but not at all weak." He found the German people during his stay, he said, believing the war would last at least another year.

New London, Conn., Nov. 2.—Activities of varied nature centered about the German under-sea merchantman Deutschland and her captain, Paul Koenig, today. While the crew busied themselves behind the barrier which hid the submarine from public view, in preparing to dispose of the 700 tons of valuable cargo which the Deutschland brought from Bremen, customs officials and naval officers prepared for the inquiry to determine that status of the craft.

The Deutschland has been entered as a commercial vessel, but to make certain that every neutrality provision has been observed, an inspection by both naval and customs officials was decided upon at Washington. Commander Yates Stirling, who is head of the naval station here arranged to go aboard with his aides in conjunction with James McGovern, collector of customs of this district. The latter had conferred last night with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, who was at Hartford, regarding the questions involved in the Deutschland's reappearance.

Another Whirl At "Hide" Case; Other Police News

Clyde Tipton, an East End young man, who, the police say, confessed to his connection with the recent stealing of hides from an N. & W. box car, was arraigned in the mayor's court Thursday morning.

Tipton pleaded not guilty but was held to the grand jury in the sum of $500. He was personally charged with stealing $60 worth of hides. Homer and Walter Forsythe, two more East End young men, who are similarly charged, will be given a hearing probably Friday.

Will Abbott, of West Virginia, and Joe Henderson, of Paintsville, Ky., were named given by two young men found at the Chemical works late Wednesday night, both armed with new pistols. They claimed to be enroute to Circleville to husk corn. The guns are believed to be some of those recently stolen from Rottinghaus' hardware store though the police do not think the two fellows had any part in the robbery. They are rather inclined to the belief that the two bought the guns from some one along the road. They will be held for investigation.

Harry S. Johnson and his "affinity," Emma Mosley, of fronton, a colored couple, were arrested for fighting at Twelfth and Railroad streets Wednesday afternoon. Both were intoxicated. The woman told a story which might cause Johnson to face a "White Slave" charge. She said for the past two years he had forced her to lead a life of shame and to turn the proceeds over to him and that whenever she ran shy on money he was in a habit of beating her up. Both were slated "drunk and disorderly."

Vincent Sodorio, who recently drifted back home on a visit, was told his relatives did not want him about them and a $5 fine for drunkenness was suspended on condition that he leave the city.

Charles Kaylor, a machinist, who raised trouble with his wife, Mrs. Lizzie Kaylor, at their home on Seventh street near Chillicothe Wednesday evening, and was released on a $5 bond, failed to appear when court convened. He arrived some minutes later and his tardiness caused him to be locked up. The wife charged him with assault.

Alvin Fultz, who was in the company of his brother, John Fultz, when the latter was arrested for attempting to criminally assault a young girl at Smith Portsmouth, was fined $5 for drunkenness.

Ben Neighbors called at police headquarters in a drunken condition Wednesday night and asked to be locked up. He was accommodated.

The many friends of Miss Pearl Trace, of Gallia avenue, and Mr. Elliott Garlinger, of Detroit, Mich., will be surprised to learn of their marriage Wednesday, November first, in Columbus, Ohio. The pretty bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Elvora Trace, of Gallia avenue, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Garlinger, of Robinson avenue, Portsmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman White have taken rooms with Mr. and Mrs. Ogle Bureham, of Gallia avenue. Dr. W. E. Oletz, of the state board of health of Columbus, was in the village a few days ago to investigate the sanitary conditions. He found some parts of the village in pretty good shape and he said the swamps in some parts had caused typhoid fever to develop in the village.

Mrs. Myrtle Scott, of Grace street, who underwent an operation at the Hempstead hospital a few days ago, continues to improve.

Mrs. Maria Graham, of Spruce street, who is seriously ill with pneumonia, was reported better Thursday.

Mrs. James Hurley, of Rhodes avenue, who for several days has been suffering with rheumatism, is better.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church met at the home of Mrs. Jack Woods, of Gallia avenue, Thursday afternoon, with most of the members present. The afternoon was spent in quilting and social chat.

Mrs. Elvora Trace, of Gallia avenue, is having two five-room cottages built on her lots on Rhodes avenue.

Democratic Prosperity In 1914

Below is a sample of the sort of news that was appearing in the papers during the months when Mr. Wilson and his party were trying to produce prosperity without the assistance of munitions contracts. The date is January 1, 1914.

MARCHING IDLE ARMY
CRIED FOR FOOD UPON
STROKE OF NEW YEAR

Five Hundred Men Paraded the Streets of Chicago.

"You Are Drunk and We Are Hungry," They Shouted.

Broke Windows and Punctured Tires of Automobiles.

(REPRODUCED PRESS DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO, January 1.—Emerging restaurants and demanding food, breaking windows, and puncturing automobile tires, a crowd of nearly 500 unemployed men, early this morning, marched through Chicago's business district. They furnished a strange contrast to New Year revelers who were leaving the cafes and restaurants.

The men marched in State street, some carrying a banner which read: "We demand work, clothing." The army halted street cars and tried to passersby that they wanted work. At Van Buren street the police halted the marchers, but they again refused their line farther down the street.

"How you boys, what's up?" shouted a policeman from the curb.

"You are drunk and we are hungry," replied one of the leaders. The band finally broke up into small groups.

This shows how the Democratic Administration has failed to carry out its 1912 pledge to give the people a reduction in the high cost of living.

THE OTHER FRIENDS

In discussing forcible interference of this country in Mexican affairs, it seems there is one consideration against it that is not commonly given the accent its broad importance deserves. This is nothing more nor less than the impression interference would have on the other nations of the two Americas and so upon our own commercial welfare for the future. There is some suspicion, it may be confessed considerable uneasiness in the Central and South American republics against this country because of its assumption that it is the guardian of all of them, an assumption, however well intended and best, is not always considerably carried. In the delicate way known to diplomacy they have given intimation that armed intermeddling with Mexico will be regarded as unfriendly to them. This is a point any administration should, and, no doubt do, consider most carefully and kindly. Mexico is an irritant, but it has so far appeared to be the wiser policy and is likely to continue to be to deal with her patiently. If she were alone the factor of accountability it would not be of such consequence what course towards her was pursued, but there is much more involved for us, the confidence and good will of nations that are entering upon a development as marvelous as our own and whose friendship and confidence will be of ever increasing importance. We do not mean solely in a trade or commercial source, but in that higher sphere of peace and amity that is as desirable and helpful among nations as it is among individuals.

Coupled with this policy of non-intervention is beginning to make its beneficence and benefits apparent. Some sort of government has established itself, a large part of her harried and unhappy people are again experiencing order and peace, business in a large measure is running unmolested, enterprise and investment are proceeding to great proportions and churches and religious sects are no longer the prey and victims of marauders and bandits, in those sections over which the Carranza administration has control. The beginning of the end of one of the saddest and darkest travail through which a people ever burdened and grieved and died appears to be fair upon its way.

THE NAMING OF BATTLERS

We are not blaming Huntington for expression of pride in the fact that a war vessel of some sort has been named for her, nor are we, anywise envious. At the same time, however, we rather regret the departure from the old custom of naming battles after a section or river that seemed to have more inspiration than the commonplace titles taken from towns. As some one puts it there is picturesque possibilities in geographical names and what splendor and ringing associations linger in the old naval names of Merrimack, Alabama, Chesapeake, Kearsage, Susquehanna, Wabash, Niagara, Monongahela, Cumberland and Santee. But above all think of the glory and the patriotism that abide in such titles as the Constitution and Constellation. There is something in the very sound of quainter names that move to courage and action. Somehow one feels a man could fight longer and better aboard them than he could if sailing on the Parkersburg or the Circleville.

Some plunger in Columbus has bet $2,000 to $5,000 that Hamilton county will not go for Hughes, which shows one of two things, that you can't keep some fellows from parting with their good money, or that these partisan claims are all rank pretenses. For our part we are inclined, in the special instance at hand, to believe the former, though we have more than a healthy suspicion as to the accuracy of the latter.

Things are indeed coming to a pretty pass when a man isn't allowed to believe he did so and so when he knows he did. Twelve of the committee of seventeen that drew up the National Progressive platform issued a signed statement setting forth their reasons for supporting Woodrow Wilson, but the Republican national committee issues a bulletin saying they didn't do anything of the sort. Meanwhile, how are the people to know where they are themselves?

Some one sent in word, this week, that Sciotoville would like to be annexed to Portsmouth. Good; as the lady next door says she would be a thousand times welcome, but, mind you, she can never come in so long as her neighbor, New Boston, blocks the way. Neither can Wheelersburg.

Taft says we are now in the gravest crisis since the war, with the possible exception of 1896. He also has generally, specifically and personally commended Wilson for the wisdom with which the crisis was being handled. Thanks for "them kind words, Professor, many thanks."

Of course, a voluntary increase of wages given to the West Virginia miners is further evidence of the awful havoc free trade is wreaking upon every industry.

The fact that the enemy politicians are beginning to use the newspapers more and more in advertising is some proof that it pays to advertise.

On the street and in the offices one hears that the building associations have experienced an unusually prosperous year. It is the best thing one can hear for it means more homes earned and in turn that means a better town.

BACK AGAIN

SOON WILL BE KNOWN

One of the best indications that the campaign is scarcely making a ripple with the ordinary run of affairs are the inquiries we receive and the talk about The Times corn growing contest. Of course, there is no telling who will be the winner, we do not even know who apparently stands the best chance of taking down the $50 in gold, and the fortunate one will not be named until about the first of December, and maybe later, depending upon the promptness with which the reports of the contestants are submitted.

Some of the contestants met, this year, the misfortune that was the portion of others last, a storm damaging their acre so badly as to put them entirely out, but still there are more left than the total entries of 1915. If claims can be relied on there will be distinct gains in yields recorded in that contest. The best feature of all is the contestants are more widely scattered, representing various sections of the county and so making a competition that will be more representative and more valuable.

For today let it be said to New Boston that she is invited to walk right in, take off her bonnet and make herself at home for ever and aye.

As yet we have no word of the operations of the official effort that was going to be made to stop speeding on the highways.

Nothing like being used to a thing. The temporary road along the paving on the West Side is not an unadulterated joy, but none are complaining. All have been there before more so and haven't forgot.

The public is said to be keeping out of Wall Street, which is palpable and cheering evidence that the public is getting wise.

Sinking a ship, even though she be a submarine, months before she sails, seems to have both disappointment and drawback.

Was there ever such weather. Again we say yes; we have this identical kind right here, ever since the Peerless was founded some hundred and fifteen years ago. The kind was allowed in anticipation of the brick paving to be done.

Less than a week off now and both sides are beginning to show nervousness.

Koot-Poots

(By J. F. D. and Shonk)

A child once went to the store with his mother. He handled the toys and was so much bothered. The proprietor said, "Never bring him again. Unless he's asleep, or handcuffed or chained." But the next time she took him, the storeman said, "My! What a change in that boy!" He's a Koot Poot, that's why!

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O-O-MEINTYRE.

New York, Nov. 2—

Excepting.

The day my father.

Smelled sweet cider.

On my breath.

And said I was going.

To the dogs.

Wednesday.

Was the saddest day.

I've ever known.

I saw a dozen die.

In a movie show.

The first was.

A fair-haired child.

On a mountain side.

And the father buried it.

And went insane.

And ran all over the mountain.

And jumped from peak to peak.

And later on.

They caught him.

And took him home.

And he was standing.

In front of his hut.

Taking morning exercises.

In deep breaths.

And a villain came along.

With smooth tongue.

And city ways.

And shot him.

And they buried him.

And then.

Someone killed the villain.

All the while.

The orchestra played:

"You're a doggone dangerous

gird."

She must have been.

To cause all of that.

Fearful bloodshed.

Some day I'm going.

To write a movie play.

And no one will be shot.

And the people will pay.

And they will cheer.

And I'll be famous and rich.

And everything.

Then I'll go back home.

And dress all up like.

Astor's pet horse.

And wear spats and say:

"Look, father! Here's

Your favored child.

Who was going to the dogs."

And he'll forget all.

About that money.

I used to borrow.

When The Guests Are Gone
 Will you have a cup of tea, Dolly?
 And a bit of candy, too?
 It's the best we had and I'm very glad
 That some was left for you.

Oh, yes, we had a lovely party.
 And I like them all, you know.
 But when it's through I'm glad
 That you
 Are not the one to go.

You never cry or scold, Dolly.
 Nor upset what I've planned.
 I never heard you speak a word.
 But I know you understand!

So have a cup of tea, Dolly.
 And cake and candy, too;
 The best of fun when the party's
 done
 Is my little chat with you.

Town Gals are Sickly

During a recent dance in the Rumpus Ridge neighborhood, in Arkansas, the usual fight took place among the attending swains. There was considerable shooting and some bloodshed. The battle was regarded with equanimity by most of the beauties present, but one girl, a stranger to the greater part of the assemblage, swooned. "Who was it that fainted away?" asked Miss Duesie Burcher a little later. "Don't know," replied Miss Pearl Smothers. "Some town gal, I reckon; they're most all sickly."—Kansas City Star.

Mourning Bands

A little girl was greatly interested in watching the men in her father's orchard putting bands of tar around the fruit trees to prevent ground insects from crawling up, and asked a great many questions. Some weeks later, when out with her mother, she noticed a gentleman with a mourning band around his left sleeve.

"Mother," she said, "what's to keep them from crawling up his other arm?"

plans for a public welcome to the Deutschland's captain and her crew. President Alton T. Miner of the local chamber of commerce, with Mayor E. E. Rogers and a delegation of business men, tendered Captain Koenig an invitation to a dinner at a date to be set by him. It was said that he had accepted, although stating it was with reluctance.

The announcement of the Deutschland's manifest was awaited with some curiosity. Captain Koenig estimating the cargo to total $10,000,000 in value said it consisted largely of drugs and dyestuffs, but said there were possibly securities and jewels among the consignments.

As the Deutschland on her trip to Baltimore carried only $1,500,000 worth of freight which bulked as large as her present shipments, it was considered probable that most of the $10,000,000 valuation was represented by securities or stocks.

Henry G. Hilken, of Baltimore, president of the Eastern Forwarding company, agents for the submarine freight service, said today he was without exact information on this subject. With Dr. George Ahrens, an attaché of the German embassy, president Hilken went aboard the Deutschland this morning to greet her returned skipper.

The Deutschland's captain refused a plea that he would allow the public to view his craft. None but government or city officials might enter the enclosure, he said, and the restrictions that prevailed at Baltimore were placed in effect.

Just Apply This Paste And the Hairs Vanish

(Helps to Beauty)
A safe, reliable home-treatment for the quick removal of superfluous hairs from your face or neck is as follows: Mix a stiff paste with some water and powdered delatone, apply to objectionable hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This simple treatment is unfailing and no pain or inconvenience attends its use, but to avoid disappointment be certain you get genuine delatone.

feet again.

New London, Conn., Nov. 2.—Bags of mail brought across the seas by the German undersea merchantman Deutschland, which arrived yesterday were brought ashore today.

During the forenoon little work was done upon the cargo.

Shortly before noon Mayor E. E. Rogers, President M. T. Miner, of the chamber of commerce, and about fifty members constituting a committee, waited upon Captain Koenig. There was a conference on the pier and the captain accepted an invitation to a dinner to be given by the chamber, the time to be fixed later. The party was divided into groups of five and each went on the submarine and looked it over. Later those favored with this chance of inspection stated that what they saw was mostly machinery.

Captain T. A. Scott, of the Scott Wrecking Company, sent a diver down alongside of the Deutschland and he reported that there were fourteen small holes in the anchor bulkhead. These were probably made when the anchor dented the shell of the craft. The holes had caused some leakage on the trip over.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—(Via London).—The German Ocean Navigation Company of Bremen has up to now been unable to confirm the news of the arrival of the merchant submarine Deutschland at New London. While the newspapers all display prominently the British News Agency messages announcing the arrival, they are inclined to question their authenticity.

Enthusiastic Rally Held At Wheelersburg

At an enthusiastic Republican rally, held at Wheelersburg, Wednesday night, Hon. Henry T. Bannan and Judge Geo. M. Osborn delivered splendid addresses. Both spoke on National issues.

Mr. Bannan stated that two reasons seemed to be advanced by the Democratic party in favor of the election of Woodrow Wilson. One was that the president had kept this country out of war, and the other was that the American people were now enjoying prosperity.

Upon the first point, Mr. Bannan explained that no country now at war wanted war with the United States. That the allies are receiving large quantities of munitions of war from America, and certainly none of those countries wanted war with us because such course would prevent them from obtaining the munitions evidently so much in need. He stated that Germany was making a brave

HERO OF FIFTY SEVEN BATTLES FOR NERV-WORTH

A. J. Blankenship of Le Lage, Gives Remarkable Statement.

This endorser is a well known farmer who lives on the Ohio above Huntington.

"I have been suffering for a long time with what the doctors called a severe nervous breakdown, due to the infirmities of old age, rheumatism, and the hardships undergone during my four years of service in the army, during the Civil War, having fought through 57 battles. I also suffered from a swimming of the head, which became so severe at times that I would fall to the ground. Also suffered from a bronchial affection caused by catarrh.

"I have taken two bottles of Nerv-Worth and my nerves are now in good shape. Not a trace of nervousness left, rheumatism almost completely well, bronchial trouble all gone, and the swimming in my head is completely cured, never having had an attack since I began taking Nerv-Worth. My wife has also taken it, having used three bottles and it has done her a great deal of good.

"A. J. BLANKENSHIP."

Your dollar back at the Fisher and Streich Pharmacy, Portsmouth, if Nerv-Worth does not benefit you.

Their readers are asked to remember the source from which the telegram originates and not to indulge in festivities until a direct message from Captain Koenig, commander of the undersea traders, relieves them of all doubt.

The skeptical attitude of the press was explained when it was recalled that an erroneous story of the arrival of the commercial submarine Bremen at an American port some time ago was given extensive space in the columns of the press, to be devoted to a laudatory comment and culminated at Bremen in a celebration of the event.

Spanish-American war. He denied that the country was not really prosperous, but that it was simply on a financial drunk. Judge Osborn dismissed the measures passed by the present administration and compared the Democratic party with the past Republican parties. The policies of both were compared and explained. In concluding, Judge Osborn urged all Republicans to stand by the National, State, District and County tickets.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

C. Smith, 22, bridge worker, Charleston, W. Va., to Emma Schley, 16, city. Rev. C. E. Oakley.

ARE HELD

A re-hearing was given Pearl Seth, John Hammock, John Seth and Maurice Bertram Thursday in probate court by Judge Thomas C. Beatty at the request of Attorney Frank W. Monton, representing the defendants.

The young men are charged with stealing several hundred dollars worth of hides from a Norfolk and Western freight car and disposing of them to Dan La-hold and Louis Azareh, local junk dealers.

After the testimony had been adduced, Judge Beatty held the four young men to the grand jury. The bonds of Pearl Seth and John Hammock were placed at $500 each and the bonds of John Seth and Maurice Bertram were placed at $300.

Habitual drunkenness, extreme cruelty and gross neglect are the allegations cited in a petition for divorce filed in common pleas court Thursday by Rosie Boldman against David Boldman. The petition says that the couple were married November 23, 1881.

A temporary injunction was granted by Judge Thomas, restraining the defendant from visiting the plaintiff. The plaintiff says that the household goods at No. 1125 Twelfth street belongs to her and asks that her right be protected. Blair and Kimble represent the plaintiff.

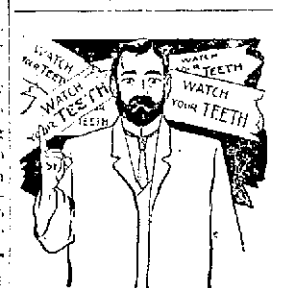

A LETTER FROM A SOLDIER DOWN IN FAR MEXICO

"My grandmother gave me a supply of Wonderoil to take with me in the Mexican campaign. She said it would be my best friend and it surely proved itself—all that and more. Some of the nights here are very cold and lots of the men contract hacking coughs. I have not yet seen a case that Wonderoil did not cure.

"A few days ago I strained the muscles of my right arm and the pain was terrible. I couldn't sleep and didn't know what to do. Then I remembered Wonderoil and got up in the middle of the night and rubbed it on the muscles. It eased the pain at once and soon I was fast asleep. In the morning the arm was almost well and I was able to take care of my camp duties without pain. Wonderoil is certainly a Godsend to me.

"First Sergeant, C. W. Watson, Co. I, 2nd Infantry."

Note:—WONDEROIL, mentioned in the above letter is the old fashioned ointment that so many Portsmouth families are now using successfully to cure stubborn coughs and colds. It seldom fails to relieve even the worst cases of hacking coughs. It can be secured in Portsmouth from Fisher & Streich and other reliable druggists.

HUGHES SURE TO WIN SAYS COL. HARVEY

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT
CHARLES E. HUGHES

The man who made Woodrow Wilson president, predicts that Charles E. Hughes will win by handsome majority. It's all over but the shouting. Get on the band wagon.

New York, Nov. 3.—Four years ago Colonel George Harvey, the man who made Wilson president, guessed wrong as to only one state in his election forecast.

In 1908 he was only 17 electoral votes out of the way, and in 1904 only 22. In April of the present year, before a single state had indicated a preference for the nominee, he closed an analysis of the political situation, under the heading "Nobody for Hughes but the People" with the positive prediction that "rightly or wrongly, wisely or not, the will of the people will prevail and Charles Evan Hughes will be the next Republican candidate for president of the United States."

In the North American Review published today Colonel Harvey predicts the election of Hughes as certain, in detail as follows:

Electoral Votes Essential to a Choice—266

We predict that Mr. Hughes will carry these states:

California	13
Connecticut	7
Idaho	4
Illinois	29
Iowa	13
Kansas	10
Maine	6
Massachusetts	18
Michigan	15
Minnesota	12
New Hampshire	4
New Jersey	14
New Mexico	3
New York	45
North Dakota	5
Oregon	5
Pennsylvania	38
Rhode Island	5
South Dakota	5
Utah	4
Vermont	4
Washington	7
Wyoming	3
Total	269

We expect that Mr. Hughes will carry these:

Indiana	15
Wisconsin	13
Total	23

We believe that Mr. Hughes will carry these:

Delaware	3
Ohio	24
Maryland	8
Total	35

We allot to Mr. Wilson beyond question:

Alabama	12
Arkansas	9
Florida	6
Georgia	14
Virginia	12
Kentucky	13
Louisiana	10
Mississippi	10
North Carolina	12

Oklahoma	10
South Carolina	9
Tennessee	9
Texas	20
Total	149
We regard as doubtful:
Arizona	3
Colorado	6
Missouri	18
Montana	4
Nebraska	8
Nevada	3
West Virginia	8

Total	50
GRAND TOTALS
Hughes	332
Wilson	149
Doubtful	50
HUGHES SURELY WINS
Probable majority for Hughes between 145 and 175.

Class "Flag" Is Up

For nearly a week the Senior class of the high school have had their "flag" fastened to the staff on the building. The "flag" is a small piece of sheet iron securely bolted to the iron pole. On the sheet iron are the numbers 77 in black.

The class flags have been put up after night on each occasion. Any student caught in the building during the evening on such a mission is taking a chance on being expelled. An effort is being made to stop the class flag fight and have the American flag alone float from the staff.

RHEUMATISM MAKES YOU FEEL OLD

Pains and Aches Yield to Sloan's Liniment, the Family Friend.

When your joints become stiff, your circulation poor, and your suffering makes you irritable, an application of Sloan's Liniment gives you quick relief. It kills pain, starts up a good circulation, relieves congestion. It is easier and cleaner to use than many plaster or ointments, acts quickly and does not clog the pores. It does not stain the skin.

You don't need to rub—it penetrates. Certainly fine for rheumatism, stiff neck, sciatica, lame back, toothache, etc.

For sprains, strains, bruises, black and blue spots, Sloan's Liniment reduces the pain and eases the soreness.

Its use is so universal that you'll consider Sloan's Liniment a friend of the whole family. Your druggist sells it in 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles.

SOCIETY

The Sophomore class of the high school gave the weekly literary program in the high school auditorium Thursday morning. It was to have been given Tuesday, but on account of the accident to Henrietta Brown, it was postponed. Next Tuesday the Freshmen will have charge of the program. Every Tuesday one of the classes gives a half hour's program in the auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boyd's pretty home on Second street, with beautiful decorations left from their party of Tuesday evening, was also the scene of a lovely Halloween party last evening, when their little son, Francis, entertained his little friends. The rooms, including the attic, were artistically decorated in keeping with the Halloween season, and the little guests enjoyed every minute of the party. Miss Mary E. Purcell told an interesting ghost story to the little tots. A grand march and various games were indulged in. They were taken through the "house of death" and the refreshments were served in the "Goblin Town" cafe, where "witchade" was included in the refreshments. An Edison Disc phonograph rendered the music. The little ones were very attractive in their cute little masquerade. Most of them were in pretty costumes, which were removed later in the evening. It would be hard to describe the decorations perfectly, as they were most elaborate, the artistic work of Mr. Boyd, window decorator at Bragdon's store.

The Misses Mary E. and Tamzin Purcell recently had as guest Mrs. W. T. Lewis, of Glendale, who spent last winter in Florida at the same time the Misses Purcell were there.

The Christian Endeavorers of the C. B. church gave a Halloween social Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larcomp, 1517 Twelfth street. About 30 young people were present, all being masked but two. The guests were asked to come in the back way and a ghost in the back yard created a hair-raising sensation. Another ghost was in the dimly lighted hall to greet the guests. After the masks were removed games and music were the features of the evening. Light refreshments were served by the social committee. CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

Look At Tongue! Then Give Fruit Laxative For Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Children and They Love It.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Thorough "inside cleaning" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

Save Your Feet—It Pays in the Long Run The "Arch Preserver" Shoe FOR WOMEN AND MISSES

What Do You Know About "Arch Preserver" Shoes?

If you have not yet worn a pair we are sure you do not fully appreciate their worth and their mission, regardless of how much information you may have concerning them.

"ARCH PRESERVER" SHOES are anatomically and mechanically RIGHT for the perfectly good, or normal, foot to wear. That's what the manufacturers say about them, but such big words may be confusing, so we tell you, after experience that the ARCH PRESERVER SHOES are built—did you notice—BUILT on the same principle you would build a bridge.

A bridge that does not reach from one side of a stream to the other is not much of a bridge; nor if a bridge sags in the middle, would people speak of it as being a reliable bridge.

ARCH PRESERVER SHOES have that bridge which reaches from the heel to the ball of the foot, and it is made so that it absolutely refuses to sag in the middle. Then, the tread surface of the inside of the ARCH PRESERVER SHOES corresponds identically with the bottom tread of the normal foot.

Thus, any person can readily see that if your foot arch is perfectly normal, the shoe is bound to be exactly the shoe you require; or if your arch is in any way broken down, a honest judgment would tell you that a bridge, perfect enough from which to mould the human arch, would be the very support you should have.

There you have the secret of the wonderful success of the ARCH PRESERVER SHOES. Some fellow with a long head on him took the trouble to look into the matter of so many broken down arches and discovered that in our shoe making we had gotten away from nature's path. He saw that to have perfect feet, we should not try to make the foot fit the shoe, but to make the shoe, arch and all, fit the normal foot.

No words of mouth or words in print can tell anyone with either a normal or a broken arch just how comfortable an ARCH PRESERVER SHOE feels, but we can slip one on your foot and you will fully understand.

That's our mission; to sell these ARCH PRESERVER SHOES to everybody. And every foot should wear them. Don't for one minute think that your feet need be crippled before ARCH PRESERVER SHOES should be worn. If your feet are normal, jump into a pair of ARCH PRESERVER SHOES and keep them that way.

ARCH PRESERVER SHOES are made in both sensible and dressy lasts. There is a shoe for every type of foot and for all purposes and all occasions. The prices on all are very reasonable.

Show Room About Ready

The show room which the General Service Company is fitting up in the former location of Stevens & Youngman on Fifth street, west of Chillicothe street, is nearly ready for occupancy. It will be up-to-date in every respect. Fred Treischler will have personal charge of it.

SCIOTOVILLE AND WHEELERSBURG

SCIOTOVILLE

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church met Wednesday in an all-day session at the home of Mrs. John Williams, of Walnut street. The day was spent in quilting, sewing and social chat. At 12 o'clock Mrs. Williams served dinner to the ladies. Those present were: Mesdames Strimling, Jenkins, Della Stewart, Robert Dever, Robert Sloan, A. Sartan, K. N. Nagel, R. DeWitt, Laura Hood, Rose Davenport, Carr Brock, Ella Davenport, Jack Hocking, Bess Turner, Ray Mahaffey, W. S. Kent, Margaret Thomas, Skeg, Southernly, Bess Bell, Philip Frick, George Creamer, Will Taylor and William Reif.

Mrs. Ed Basham, who is suffering with pneumonia at her home on Main street, remains very low.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lemon, of Main street, motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Gump, of Sunshine, Wednesday, and spent the evening.

Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Figgins, of Main street, is suffering with indigestion.

The Sciotoville school was dismissed until noon Wednesday on account of not having coal for the furnace.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Goudrich, of Nelson, N.Y., and their family, are visiting relatives here and in Portsmouth for a few weeks.

Mrs. Annetta Enkins, of Main street, purchased a Ford truck from S. A. Stewart recently.

WHEELERSBURG

Wood is progressing nicely on George R. H. best cottages on Railroad street.

Deane L. L. of Cedar Wheelersburg, is threatened with typhoid fever.

Deane Vanhook, who is employed in Chicago, is spending several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Vanhook, of near here.

Says Husband Made "Date," Arrest Follows

Leslie Culley was "turned over" to the police Wednesday night by his wife as a deserter from the U. S. navy and is now being held pending word from government officials.

It seems that the couple married several years ago and lived in Cincinnati but after a short time they disagreed and Culley entered the navy. They became reconciled some months ago and came to Portsmouth to live, renting a home on Twelfth street, near Chillicothe street. The wife became suspicious of him lately paying attention to other women and trailed him to Bradshaw's saloon Wednesday evening. He was wearing his naval uniform and peeping through a window she saw him using the telephone. Listening closely she said she overheard him making a "date" with some girl. She hunted up Officers Flowers and Beaumont and had him arrested. Mrs. Culley's maiden name was Thurman.

Turnipseed Has Fine Sciotoville Meeting

Hon. A. G. Turnipseed, Democratic nominee for congress from this district, addressed the voters of Sciotoville and Porter township in Haecquard's hall, at Sciotoville, last night.

He warmly upheld the administration of Woodrow Wilson and said always before that business was at a standstill just before the election—that business men would not place orders until they saw which way the cat jumped. But now it is a question, can he get the goods he orders?

For over an hour and thirty minutes he pictured the horrors of war, and said that more able-bodied men had been slain in an useless war than all the men in the United States.

He told of his opponent's attempt to close down the steel plant. He said there would be no danger of such action, and said that Mr. Kearns did not know much more about the industries of this district than he did about the history of the great men from the district. He told of the state erecting a monument to the memory of Governor Kirtner at West Union last summer. He said that Governor Kirtner was at one time speaker of the House of Representatives in the General Assembly, and that Mr. Kearns noticed on the monument the inscription, "Speaker of the House of Representatives," and took it for granted that he was speaker of the House, and lauded him and his record to the skies, as he compared him to Henry Clay and other great speakers of the National House of Representatives, while those down in front of the speaker shook their heads in disgust and said, "No, no; that is not right." But it did not stop Charlie and he went on about the record of Governor Kirtner as speaker of the National House of Representatives.

Mr. Turnipseed predicted the election of Woodrow Wilson by an overwhelming plurality.

Philip Jacobs, William Bennett and Jno. P. Addis were present and spoke of the county and judicial ticket.

After the meeting was over Mr. Turnipseed told those present that he never had a more appreciative audience; that even the boys, who seemed to be the best behaved of any boys he ever saw, listened attentively to what he had to say.

TERMINALS

N. & W. extra 765 in charge of Conductor T. G. Origger and Engineer E. Cunningham, derailed one car of coal at Nolan, W. Va., at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday, blocking the east-bound main track for thirty minutes. The track was cleared by the train crew.

M. C. Miracle, boiler-maker's assistant, at the N. & W. round house, who lives at 620 Campbell avenue, Portsmouth, had his right hand badly bruised Tuesday evening while trying to take a hose off of the water line and the pressure blew the hose off, striking him on the hand. He was taken to Dr. S. S. Halderman's office where his hand was dressed.

A Cincinnati street car damaged the southwest N. & W. crossing gate at Montgomery Road at Norwood, Wednesday at 6:45 a. m. The crossing watchman lowered the gates to let an engine and a few cars use the crossing and before the gates could be raised the street car started and the trolley pole caught the gate breaking it off.

Hon. Harry Bauman and Judge Osborn, of Portsmouth, delivered Republican speeches in the Haecquard hall Wednesday evening. Much interest was taken and a large crowd attended.

Jack Andre, of Legation Wednesday evening with his brother, Dr. J. M. Andre, of Main street.

The Past Masters of the Masonic order of Wheelersburg gave a banquet Wednesday evening at the Harman house, with thirty members present. After the banquet a meeting was held in their hall on Main street.

AFTER THE WAR?

Peace, Prosperity and Continued Progress Under President Wilson!

BUSINESS IS NOT AFRAID OF WILSON.

Henry B. Endicott and George F. Johnson, owners of the largest shoe factory in the world, both life-long Republicans, will support Wilson and have already granted an 8-hour day.

W. A. Julian, of the Julian-Kokenze Shoe factory, Cincinnati, is president of the Cincinnati Business Men's Non-Partisan Wilson League.

Andrew Carnegie, the country's most successful iron monger, is for Wilson.

Henry Ford, pioneer 8-hour day manufacturer, says "Any one who wants to gamble with Prosperity should vote against Wilson."

Thomas A. Edison, the great inventor, is for Wilson, because he "blunders forward."

THE FARMERS ARE STRONG FOR WILSON

David Lubin, Father of Rural Credits, and Luther Burbank, the plant wizard, are leading the rural hosts for the president.

Under the caption "AN APPEAL TO THE FARMERS OF AMERICA" leading officials of farmers' organizations have issued an open letter to farmers which in part says:

"The signers of this letter, putting all party considerations aside and considering solely the interests of agriculture, appeal to farmers to vote for the re-election of President Woodrow Wilson.

"We make this appeal because we believe that more has been accomplished of vital importance to the farmer during President Wilson's administration than in any single presidential term in the nation's history.

"We believe that with his re-election this service to the cause of agriculture will be continued with unceasing strength, insuring a continuation of the prosperity which has come to the nation since President Wilson entered the White House.

"ABOVE ALL, PRESIDENT WILSON HAS KEPT US OUT OF WAR.

"There is no means of judging the future except by assessing the past. Constructive action must be weighed against destructive comment and reaction. This is the true test. The record of great service to the farmer and the nation of President Wilson is our sure guarantee of even greater service in the future."

Among the signers of this letter are:

- H. E. STOCKBRIDGE, President Farmers' National Congress;
- OBADIAH GARDNER, Past Master Maine State Grange;
- WILLIAM T. CREASY, Secretary National Dairy Union.
- ROBERT B. VAN CORTLANDT, Vice President Rural Credit League of America;
- ELLIOTT B. NORRIS, Past Master New York State Grange;
- JOHN J. FARRELL, President American Creamery Butter Manufacturers' Association.
- O. D. ANDERSON, President Farmers' Co-operative Societies of South Dakota;
- FRED W. LEWIS, Secretary Washington State Grange;
- FRED J. CHAMBERLAIN, Deputy Master Washington State Grange, Chairman Joint Legislative Committee of the State Federation of Labor, State Farmers' Union and State Grange.

LABOR IS THE STAUCHEST SUPPORTER OF ALL OF OUR GREAT PRESIDENT

There is not a labor leader of any prominence in the whole country who is not supporting Wilson.

No more does the Tariff Bugaboo or the Calamity Wail prevail among thinking voters.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 60.

Dear Miss Wise—How long does morning last, I mean how many hours. It is over at nine or ten o'clock?

BILLY.
From dawn till noon is usually called morning. However, anytime after midnight is also called the "wee small hours of the morning."

Polly—You'll have to see Jack about that. Call up the office or go there and ask to see him.

Miss Dolly Wise—Please tell me of an inexpensive shampoo that will tend to darken light hair. The one I have been using seems to be bleaching my hair. Also tell me something to make my hands white. They are soft and smooth, but so red and "wrinkled" they are positively unsightly. Thank you.

STENOGRAPHER.
Why not use an egg shampoo, or why use one at all. Just wash your hair with ordinary toilet soap or a shampoo soap which you can purchase at a drug store. After washing your hands rub one with the other—rub towards the wrist and it will relieve the redness and wrinkles.

Dear Miss Wise—I am 18 years of age. Do you think I am too young to acknowledge the friendship boys offer me? My father and brother do not want me to do so. What do you advise me to do under such circumstances? BLACK EYES.

I think every girl should be able to claim friendship with desirable boys. However, your father and brother may be like a great many other fond parents and brothers in that they cannot realize you have grown up. Be patient with them and try to induce them to let you bring your friends to the house to meet them. They can then judge whether they are proper companions for you.

Dear Miss Wise—I have been channing with a girl and have just found out that she is a flirt. Mother forbids me to have anything to do with her. She writes letters to me and I do not answer them. What should I say when I meet her, and how shall I act? MARYJOEY.

Be reserved, but kind. Talk to her, but do not make plans to go places or do things with her.

Dear Dolly—I am in search of a piece of music, a quartet, but I cannot remember the name, or title. The only words that I can recall are a part of the chorus, viz: "And they all had a finger in the pie." I would appreciate it very much if you can furnish me with the title of this piece, and where I can secure it. Sincerely yours, CANNARY.

The title of the song is "They All Had a Finger in the Pie." If the local music dealers haven't the song in stock, they will be glad to order it for you.

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Drew, of Portsmouth, Ohio, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Hazel Bailey Drew, to Mr. Robert Miller Adair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aurelius B. Adair, of Columbus. The marriage will take place in December. Wednesday's Columbus Evening Dispatch.

A jolly Halloween party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larcamp on Twelfth street Tuesday evening, when members of the C. E. Society of the United Brethren church and friends were entertained. The evening was spent in games and contests. Refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Genevieve Larcamp, Stella Boren and Edith Knost. The guests were masked, representing many different characters. Those present were Edna Bowser, Victoria Evans, Edith Knost, Emma Gulker, Bertha Boren, Rosa Strehle, Edna May, Helen Knost, Lena Bowser, Ida Evans, Ida, Lena and Mattie Frick, Minnie Chubot, Alice, Emma and Genevieve Larcamp, Margaret Gulker, Mrs. Fred Wheeler and daughter Norma, Louis Denschle, Fred Larcamp, Abe Denschle, Luther Boren, Paul and Fred Noel, Fred Wheeler, Walter McClure, Clarence May, Roy Salisbury, Frank Moon, Russell May, Howard Larcamp and Harold Wheeler.

Miss Anna Wagner of 908 Off-nere street, entertained twelve guests Tuesday evening with a Halloween party. The house was decorated with ferns and jack-o'-lanterns. All sorts of Halloween stunts were indulged in after which refreshments were served.

Mrs. Jessie Knealey, who has been residing on Eleventh street, has moved to 411 Sinton street.

Meet Me At Nye's Fountain. 12th

The Women's Relief Corps will hold a called meeting Tuesday afternoon to prepare for inspection and any other business which may come up.

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arsenic; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to wet the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. No matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arsenic at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

Miss Grace Cline gave a beautiful Halloween party at her home on Timmons avenue, where seventy-five guests enjoyed the many diversions planned for their pleasure. The rooms were elaborately adorned with Japanese parasols, pumpkins, jack-o'-lanterns, crepe paper, the electric lights were shaded with red paper, and with the candle light, the rooms presented a weird appearance. The lawn was lighted with lanterns, and games were played about a big log fire in the back yard. The lawn was adorned with autumn foliage and an old witch told the fortunes of the guests as they visited her den. All sorts of Halloween stunts were indulged in, there was victrola music in the hall, piano music in the parlor and Hawaiian music in the dining-room. There were witches all over the house, making the scene as weird as possible. An elegant lunch of jelly sandwiches, baked beans, veiners, pickles, apples and coffee were served by Caterer Adam Pfau. The dining-room was very attractive with jack-o'-lanterns, witches, yellow and black crepe paper and in the center of the table a candelabra with red electric lights forming the fire underneath, was beautiful. During the serving, Hawaiian music was rendered in the dining-room. Mrs. W. R. Cline and Miss Antoinette Cline assisted in the serving.

LensEconomy

So strange an organ is the eye that it is apparently easily satisfied. Any lens ground approximately to prescription causes a distinct improvement in the vision. But in spite of this apparent improvement there may still exist a severe strain, which in after years leads to serious complications. So, for the sake of a small saving on each lens, do not make the mistake of buying anything but the best. Stahler's tonic lenses are endorsed and recommended by hundreds because they are ground in exact accordance with the prescription and because they accomplish real results.

DEMOCRATS PLANNING FOR RECORD RALLY TONIGHT

The Democrats of Scioto county will gather in Distel Hall, Seventh and Chillicothe streets, this evening at 7:30 o'clock to take part in a big demonstration and to hear the issues of the campaign discussed by brilliant speakers.

Hon. Charles A. Towne,

former United States senator of Minnesota, and now corporation counsel of New York City, who is considered one of the best orators in the country, will discuss the national issues. For clear, concise, logic, splendid oratory and humor, Mr. Towne has few equals. Serving in the United States senate for years, then becoming chief attorney for New York City with its millions of people, he has been given a chance to gain a deep insight into the operations of the government.

Hon. Thomas J. Duffy, member of the Ohio Industrial Commission, Columbus, an able speaker and experienced with labor questions and the Workmen's Compensation Law, will explain the state issues. Mr. Duffy is the labor member of the Industrial Commission.

The third speaker is Hon. A. G. Turnipseed, West Union, Democratic candidate for congress from the Sixth district, who will talk about district and state issues. Mr. Turnipseed's ability as an orator is well known in this city for he has been the principal speaker at several meetings here.

Ex-Senator J. I. Hudson has been chosen to act as chairman of the rally.

Committees on decorations and reception have been selected. Those who will welcome Senator Towne are: Vallee Harold, Judge James S. Thomas, Adam Frick, W. A. Inman, and David Stahler. For Hon. Thomas J. Duffy: Victor M. Howland, Robert Callahan, Ed Westphal, Richard Barry, Sr., and Henry Uhl, Jr. For Hon. A. G.

Turnipseed: Conrad Roth, W. B. Richardson, Philip Jacobs, William Benett and George C. Lauder.

The committee on decorations is: James R. Distel, Eugene Wurster, Joseph Kountz, O. L. Thama and Julius Baesman.

Should any of the speakers arrive in the city this afternoon, the River City Band, which has been engaged for the occasion, will meet them at the Washington Hotel this evening and escort them to the hall.

Democrats from all sections of the county and adjoining counties are expected to attend the enthusiastic rally.

Steel Plant Will Get Needed Land From City

Zaph Addition To Be Refused Water, Sewers, Etc., Unless 20th St. Is Opened

After listening to Mayor H. H. Kaps, F. V. Knauss, president of the Board of Trade, Albert Zoellner, president of the Business Men's Association, and others, city council Wednesday night voted to go ahead with the sale of unused city-owned land south of the Zaph plant desired by the Whitaker-Glessner company, in furthering its plans.

Upon motion of Mr. Vandervort, chairman of the light and water committee, City Solicitor Skelton was instructed to proceed with legislation for advertising the sale of the property, which he said the city would never need but which involved numerous details that remain to be worked out.

Mr. Knauss expressed approval in a general way of what council had done to date in the matter and assured the body that the business interests of the city were behind it. He said the people of Portsmouth do not realize the magnitude of the improvements just started. He said it meant over seven millions of dollars and a new era in affairs of the community. He said while the people behind the improvements go about the same in a magnanimous, wholehearted way and will pay what is wanted or demanded he felt it a mistake to charge them one penny more than it cost the city for it will make them feel better. He said he was proud of the fact that Portsmouth as a community had never been hostile to railroads and corporations, instead always showing co-operation and the result was speaking for itself.

Heartily Approved By Business Men

Mr. Zoellner assured council of the hearty approval of the Business Men's Association in the action it has taken towards selling the land in question to the companies seeking it that without a profit, expressing the belief that otherwise it would not look or read well.

Floor Leader Wilson voiced his appreciation of the appearance before council of the presidents of the two civic bodies and for so readily offering their services in the advancement of the city and felt satisfied that council would take cognizance of the fact and be guided largely along the lines laid out.

Mayor Kaps who had listened attentively to all that had been said, now expressed the belief that Messrs. Knauss and Zoellner, who as soon as they had finished talking, took their leave, had not learned of the results of a conference that was held the night before. He said one point that was brought out was that the city would have to extend its present underground crossing at the pumping station under the B. & O. right of way. He said General Manager F. E. Fieger had cheerfully agreed that his company would pay 60 percent of this new expense in exchange for the city's land.

ground and to apply the same and considerable more to the building of this underground crossing under the B. & O. He said Mr. Fieger was thoroughly satisfied, adding with considerable warmth: "And I take exceptions to the man who took the committee out there today asking us to give away city property and on the other hand is asking us to buy property and open up a street. Something that was not pointed out is that we have to spend a lot more money on this new water works and I do not think the city is asking a cent too much. We expect to spend the money right there on the ground."

Mr. Roush supplemented the mayor's remarks by stating that the price fixed was based on what the steel company had paid for Idlewild, $2500 per acre, Mr. Fieger having made the proposition himself.

The solicitor ended further discussion by stating the statutes provided that the city could not dispose of any of its property save by public sale and that to the highest bidder, but of course had a right to reject any and all bids and could also stipulate that nothing less than $5,000 would receive the confirmation of council.

Mr. Roush wanted to know what condemnation proceedings would cost the city. The solicitor said he had no idea of property values in that vicinity but explained the method of procedure.

Mr. Vandervort admitted that Sunnyside owners and its residents were being imposed upon and pointed out that the resolution prepared by City Solicitor Skelton appropriating an easement in Twentieth street did not bind council to carry out such action and that it could simply await the outcome of such suit and if not satisfied with the jury verdict could back down and besides the Sunnyside realty owners in that event agreed to assume the expense, failed to shake the attitude of a majority. Mr. Johnson's motion to pass the resolution failed. The vote was: Ayes—Johnson, Rice and Wilson; Nays—Cramer, Riekey, Roush and Vandervort.

Attorney Harry W. Miller on behalf of residents and property owners of Sunnyside, had strongly urged the opening of the street which he said was the natural outlet for Sunnyside. He said the public had an interest in the same. The east could not be great, he said, for the street is paved and by that very fact in improving it the owner devoted it to a purpose so that there could not now be any further damage to the residue.

Mr. Marting addressed Council Mr. F. L. Marting also was privileged to address council on the subject. He called attention to the steep Waller street grade to Sunnyside and contrasted it with the easy grade on Twentieth, saying the natural line of travel was out (Chillicothe street). He asked relief and the use of the street that he believed Sunnyside residents were entitled to.

Mr. Roush wanted to know what condemnation proceedings would cost the city. The solicitor said he had no idea of property values in that vicinity but explained the method of procedure.

Mr. Vandervort admitted that Sunnyside owners and its residents were being imposed upon and pointed out that the resolution prepared by City Solicitor Skelton appropriating an easement in Twentieth street did not bind council to carry out such action and that it could simply await the outcome of such suit and if not satisfied with the jury verdict could back down and besides the Sunnyside realty owners in that event agreed to assume the expense, failed to shake the attitude of a majority. matter of removing the light at Fifth and Boundary streets to the end of Boundary street was referred to the service department.

A claim of Ed Burton for $22 damages to his corn field by the flood wall extension work was received and filed. The solicitor was directed to prepare legislation for a 2 inch water pipe extension in the alley between Vinton and Robinson avenues and Summit and High streets, the estimated cost of which is $114.70.

Solicitor Skelton pointed out the absolute necessity of the city properly defending the action brought against it by Frank A. Done in the federal district court in Cincinnati for alleged infringement of his flood wall patent. He said the aggregate amount of damages asked was $30,000. He estimated that counsel fees would amount to $1,000, securing of records, exhibits, etc., $500. An ordinance prepared by him appropriating for that purpose $1500 out of the levee and embankment fund, which has a balance of $8,000, was passed. Other ordinances passed were: Appropriating $250 for the purchase of the T. C. Anderson 8 ft. strip on the west side of Mahert Road for the widening of that street; appropriating $25 for cemetery improvements; appropriating $25 for lights and $50 for cleaning of markets, insufficient amounts having been previously appropriated; appropriating $1900 for the installation of water mains on Mahert Road north from Seventeenth street 1800 ft.

The schedule amounting to $170.93 was allowed.

LET US REDEEM OHIO!

GRAVE matters are at issue in the approaching election. The prevalence and nearness of war and the stress of conditions it creates, makes this a time in national affairs fraught with danger and big in consequence. There are, however, in Ohio, definite issues which demand attention.

The business which does not advance moves backward. The business which entrusts its affairs to those who deal lightly with the truth faces disaster. The government of Ohio is a big business. It is the biggest business in the State. Its conduct requires ability, vision and human treatment. It needs first of all, honesty.

The importance of Ohio government has been growing constantly. In the last ten years, except two, its progress has been marked. During the last two years there has been reaction. Of the contrast here presented and of the possibilities of danger in the future there should be earnest consideration.

This is a plain business proposition. Let us reason it out together.

THE advancing movement in Ohio, already under way, gained new impetus in 1912 with the adoption of the new constitution, fitted to new needs. The thought of social justice and human development stood over all. James M. Cox, who supported the amendments, was chosen Governor to enact and administer laws to put the amendments into effect. This he did. He enacted other progressive laws that assisted in the efficient conduct of State government and carried all the benefits of a progressive State to all the people.

Under the Cox administration came the Compulsory Workmen's Compensation Law which was so efficiently administered that in two years it had gained the support not only of employees, but of employers as well. Under this administration all destructive attempts against the law were successfully resisted and overcome.

A modern educational system was established which gave to the boys and girls of the farm the opportunities they deserved.

There was written the Mothers' Pension Law, with the absolute guarantee to every mother in Ohio that no matter what circumstances may befall her in the tender youth of her children, she will not come to poverty nor will her little ones be separated from her.

Once to every man and nation comes a moment to decide—
In the strife 'twixt truth and falsehood, on the good or evil side.

—LOWELL

THE Cox administration has now been in review long enough to be known and understood. Its progress is in comparison with the reaction of its successor.

The people of Ohio have a right to expect real service. Let us consider what we will gain by again electing James M. Cox to administer our State government.

Governor Cox is pledged to protection and preservation of the Compulsory Workmen's Compensation Law which he had enacted, and which he did protect while Governor.

The Democratic platform pledges the Democratic legislature when elected to repeal of the arbitrary features of the present taxation law, and the continuation of the right of local subdivisions to elect their own assessors.

There is promised the enactment of laws that will continue the far seeing policy of good roads development which will enable the State to secure the fullest benefits afforded by national legislation and national appropriations.

As the creator of the school code, which will be his

The Forward-Looking Association of Ohio

(Political Advertisement)

The door was closed on the dark days of old prison methods in Ohio, and there was purchased the New Penitentiary Farm, on which there has not been a single activity for two years.

There was given the first Budget Financial System adopted by any State in America.

Eleven Agricultural Bills for the promotion of farm life were written into law and efficiently and economically administered.

A Modern Highway System built on co-operation between county, state and federal government was established.

THERE came also under the Cox administration the reform of the jury system; the simplification of judicial procedure; the half holiday at election time; the law for at least two pay days a month; the standard caboose law; the purchase of life saving equipment for mines; the survey for occupational diseases; the bill providing for removal of officials; the primary election; the home rule for cities; the civil service law; the initiative and referendum; strengthening of the public utilities law; a law to protect innocent investors from fraudulent speculators; an act purifying elections; the law providing defense against tuberculosis; and the liquor license law, under constitutional mandate, which regulates the traffic.

lasting monument, Governor Cox may be depended upon to perfect that law wherever it may need change, and to continue Ohio in the front rank of the sisterhood of states in educational matters.

The day of Governor Cox's inauguration will see activities renewed on the New Penitentiary Farm, and an honest effort made to do something for the 1800 men now confined in the idle house at the penitentiary, where recently was enacted the tragedy of spoils.

The State's resources will be conserved, and proper attention to the canals and reservoirs constituting the public park system will be continued by Governor Cox as it was begun under his former administration.

The dark shadow of the spoilsman will be removed from the Board of Administration, and the blind, the insane, the helpless and the deficient will be given human care by human hands.

A policy will be adopted toward the wards of the State and their welfare, with sufficient appropriations, which will provide those things for which there is now urgent need.

THE efficient and benevolent plan for the care of the State's unfortunates under the Board of Administration was continued free from the hand of the spoilsman, with sympathetic treatment from the executive and legislative departments. Every thought was given to helpful human activity.

TWO years ago appeal was made by misrepresentation of facts and the holding out of promises which were not meant to be kept. Candidate Willis said there was a deficit in the State Treasury of $4,800,000. As Governor he received for $11,670,491.30 in cash. With his "Little Red Book" he made charge of useless offices and commissions created by Governor Cox, when most of them had come into affairs before Cox was elected. He said he would restore the outside offices to the State House, and he has purchased an 11-story office building not large enough for all the offices, and paid for it with interest on the cash he said was not in the Treasury. He promised elimination of offices, and increased the pay roll for officers $575,000 yearly. He promised increase under the Compensation Law which he has not given, but he has by inattention and reaction lent assistance to those who would destroy the law. Willis condemned an alleged political machine and as Governor proceeded by spoils distribution to build up a machine of his own unequalled in the history of State politics. He promised economy in State government, and in his first fiscal year expended $19,695,902.33, which was a million and a quarter more than was spent in any year preceding him, and which was $519,801.89 more than the receipts from all sources. (Auditor of State's Report.) He stood over the State Treasury with $11,670,491.30 in it, and on June 30, 1916, had reduced this surplus to $6,870,423.92. (Auditor of State's Report.) He pledged the election of assessors, and then passed a law which gave to boards of revision arbitrary powers, under which taxes were raised without reason and without notice. His decentralization of the license law, with effort to evade his own responsibility for law enforcement, was rejected by 112,000 votes. Efficiency has given way to politics. Ohio's only advance has been in the cost of government.

With this demonstration does it not appeal to you that Ohio deserves better treatment and that it is about time to again begin the forward move?

GOVERNOR COX is a natural executive. He is a business success and a leader. He stands square on all things. When he gives a pledge he keeps it. He takes the Governorship of the State of Ohio as a serious matter and will never permit it to become a joke. He will take the laws as he finds them and enforce them to the letter. He will see that they are changed where he has given his pledge so to do, and otherwise act where needs develop.

The election of Governor Cox means restoration of honesty, efficiency, humanity and progress in the Government of Ohio. When the people again choose him they may once more lift their heads in pride, knowing full well that Ohio will rank first among all the States in the Union.

AT the forthcoming election the voters will choose between the progress of Governor Cox, and the reaction and lack of vision of Governor Willis. Their ability to serve the people and their records of service are the issues. The decision is up to all of those of us who have to live and do business in the State. We will redeem Ohio.

LOCAL MINISTER RANG DEATH BELL, THEN PREACHED TO BIG CROWD

Rev. S. D. Conger local Presbyterian minister who is filling pulpits on the Hanging Rock Presbyterian circuit, stumbled upon a plan last Sunday to increase the church attendance at the little Presbyterian church at Sheridan, Lawrence county where he preaches every Sunday afternoon. Sheridan is about ten miles above Ironton.

For several Sundays Rev. Conger went to the church and preached to a congregation that numbered from three to six persons each Sunday. Last Sunday when he arrived at the church there was no one in the church and it was just a few minutes before the time for the services to start. Seeing a rope hanging in the front part of the church he gave it a pull and the bell gave one loud peal. The tapper of the bell seemed to fit it only once and he pulled the rope a second rung every Sunday.

He then stepped outside the door and as he looked across the field he saw a boy running as fast as he could toward the church. The boy reached the doorstep and said "Captain do you know what you've done?" Rev. Conger replied in the negative, and the boy said "you went and rung the death bell and before an hour passes everybody in this place will be at this church." Rev. Conger said "Thanks to God, I will have a crowd once anyway. The lad was right, as before an hour had elapsed the church was well filled and Rev. Conger delivered his sermon. Members of the congregation after the service explained that the bell he used was only used when funerals were at the church. Rev. Conger was then shown the regular church bell on the other side of the building. Rev. Conger says he thinks he will have the "death bell" and he pulled the rope a second rung every Sunday.

NOT MUCH CAMPAIGN LITERATURE

One of the striking features of the present campaign, according to Vallee Harold, local postmaster, is that the candidates for election and the various political organizations are not using the mails as much as formerly. But little mail matter has been sent out. The report for the month of October which was completed Wednesday shows the average gain for the year. October, this year shows an increase of $521.59 over the same period of the year previous.

also gave Hursha's an order for Magnolia flour as she knew it was the best.

The first thing Dustin Farnum did was to go to the Central Hardware company, 543-545 Second street, where he bought some tools of the best quality. He then went to Emil Arthurs, 421 Gay street, where he ordered a pair of Goodrich bicycle tires. Then going to the Lee Lumber company, Ninth and Chillicothe streets, he purchased some lumber of excellent quality.

Hurlock Lockwood first went to Merle Dudit to see about a lot in the beautiful Millbrook addition. From there he journeyed to Newman's Feed Store, 907 Gallia street, and bought grass seed for the lawn of his new home. He went to Henry Roth, 420 Chillicothe street, and obtained some sporting goods as he obtained the best there. Wallace Reid who likes well-fitting clothes, ordered a suit from the Three Little Tailors, 820 Gallia street. As he was passing the Play House, Sixth and Chillicothe streets, he stopped and purchased some excellent cigars. He then went to Wendelken's, 905 Gallia street, where he had his watch repaired.

Hurlock Lockwood went to Bill Abrahams in the Krieger building and ordered a suit as he was desirous of looking stylish. Then going to Luck and English, 511 Chillicothe street, had his eyes examined as he wanted to receive the proper treatment.

Theda Bara, remembering she wished to purchase some music, went to the Hutchison-Wamser company, 1003 Gallia street, and obtained the latest pieces. She then journeyed to F. D. White, 624 Second street, where she bought a beautiful diamond.

During this time May Allison called up the cook and told her to order some milk from the Pure Milk Co., 1619-1621 Eighth street, and also to order some Creme De La Creme flour.

Blanche Sweet and May Allison then went to the Malavazos Co., Fifth and Chillicothe streets, where they had a refreshing dish of their delicious cream.

After that they all went to the Games Of Importance This Week In 'Big Nine,' Gridiron News

Interest Centered In State-Wisconsin Game

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Games of supreme importance are to be decided in the "Big Nine" championship Saturday. Four undefeated eleven will go into action in what may be termed the semi-finals of the Western Conference season.

Wisconsin will collide with Ohio State at Columbus, Minnesota will take on Illinois at Minneapolis and Northwestern will clash with Indiana at Bloomington. Chicago will face Purdue at Chicago, but as both eleven have been twice beaten in the "Big Nine" games, the contest will have no bearing on the championship.

Interest centers on the Wisconsin-

Ohio State contest as it may either go a long way towards clearing up the championship race or further complicate the situation. Neither team has been defeated and both are making strong bids for gridiron supremacy.

Ohio, the youngest member of the "Big Nine" is of undoubted strength, for it trounced Illinois in its first start of the conference season and a week previously rolled up a score of 123 to 0 against Oberlin.

If Wisconsin is victorious over Ohio and Minnesota downs Illinois, Badgers and Gophers will clash in Minneapolis on Nov. 18 in what will probably be the deciding game of the "Big Nine" race.

The Greatest Backfield

A sideline asks for an opinion as to the greatest backfield that might be selected from all who have played.

Reaching the proper answer here leads one into water too deep for safety. There have been so many brilliant backs that to cut the pick down to four would be almost impossible.

If jammed into a corner, however, and forced to make a choice two would be content enough, and safe enough, to name of this quarter—Jim Thorpe, Ned Mahan, Willy Heston and Walter Eckersall.

This quartet could put on French or English uniforms, take the ball outside of Paris and carry it in straight rushes in Berlin without being thrown for a loss.

SPORTLETS

George and Ralph Marling will leave Friday afternoon for Columbus where they expect to attend the big football game between Ohio State University and the University of Wisconsin on Saturday.

From all reports the State lads are touted to win this game. Reserved seat sale has broken all records. In two hours all the reserved seats were disposed of. One of the largest crowds in the history of Columbus football games is expected to witness the Saturday gridiron battle.

There is to be another comparison between eastern and central west football this week, this time on the historic field at West Point where Notre Dame will meet the Army eleven for the third successive year.

The 1916 team from South Bend has made an impressive early season record and has shown that Jesse Harper has built up another scoring machine. Defensively too the eleven has proved itself but it has met no such offense as the army coaches have built up around elephant, former Purdue star, and the Notre Dame forwards and ends will probably have their work cut out for them tomorrow.

The Yale Freshmen football team will meet the crack Amherst team Saturday in a hotly contested battle. Neither team has been defeated this year.

H. A. Marling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Marling, of Sunnyside, is head coach of the Yale Freshmen. In a letter to local friends Wednesday, Mr. Marling said that the Freshmen team this year was one of the best Yale had turned out for several years.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Notice of the sale of the Boston American baseball club, announced last night at Boston, was sent today to club owners in the American League by President E. B. Johnson.

"The club is not officially sold until the deal is ratified by the league as a whole," said Mr. Johnson, "and final action on the matter probably will not be taken for a couple of weeks. I hardly think, though, that a special meeting of the league will be called."

MAULBETSCH REDEEMING HIMSELF

Maulbetsch, the sensation of the 1914 season, has once more burst forth into radiance. The great Wolverine line-drawer of two years ago and member of the all-American team shipped a slump last year. It was a big, unexplainable disappointment. Ah! But this year! The Michigan Mole is redeeming himself. He is ploughing through the Blues for gains like his grand offensive of 1914. This is Johnny's last year. He is captain of the Michigan team.

Cutting Affray Is Sequel Of Argument

Following an argument which resulted over a card game, Ed Conley was seriously cut by a man answering to the name of George Cook, according to information furnished Sheriff E. W. Smith Wednesday evening. The affray occurred late Wednesday afternoon in Turkey Hollow, New Boston.

The wounded man was taken to the office of Dr. W. G. Cheney by friends and his injuries were dressed. Seven stitches were taken in a gaping wound on the left side of the man's neck and several stitches were required to close small wounds over his left eye and on his back.

Shortly after the cutting, George Cook, the authorities say, left. Sheriff E. W. Smith immediately went to the scene and with the New Boston officials maintained a close watch for several hours, but failed to locate their man.

Conley was taken to his home after his injuries were dressed. He was reported better Thursday morning.

Auto Victims Better

Having taken a turn for the better Jerry Massie, who was injured in an automobile accident near Wheelersburg Sunday morning in which Floyd Fields lost his life, it is now believed he will recover.

H. D. Harris, another victim, who is also at the Hempstead hospital, is considerably improved.

The body of Floyd Fields was Tuesday shipped to Wehville, Ky., where interment took place.

"But," you say, "I brush my teeth regularly, yet they decay." Yes, you brush them, but do you REALLY CLEAN them? Tonight, after brushing your teeth, examine them closely. You will likely find an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding in the crevices.

Decay, as well as the dangerous gum disease called Pyorrhea, usually develops only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present. SENRECO, the formula of a dental specialist, keeps the teeth REALLY CLEAN. It embodies specially prepared soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Moreover, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea.

Bill Is Paid

The bill of $63.44 which was in dispute for the use of a city water tap while cement sidewalk construction work was on in the Idlewild addition, was paid at the public service office by Alan N. Jordan, Wednesday. The Idlewild owners were never averse to paying the bill provided others who used city water for similar purposes were made to do so.

FALLS OUT OF WINDOW

Mrs. John R. Massie, wife of a clerk employed at Lehman Bros' store, was painfully bruised in an accident at their home, No. 917 Third street, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Massie was washing windows when a sash pulled out, causing her to fall to the ground, a distance of five feet. She fell on her left side. Neighbors assisted her and a physician was called, as she seemed to suffer considerably from shock.

WILSON'S RECORD SHOWS HE IS OPPOSED TO LABOR UNIONSIT IS TIME THE LABORING MAN DID SOME TALL THINKING*READ THE RECORD OF CHAS. E. HUGHES ON THE UNION LABOR QUESTION

Mr. Hughes' position on labor, taken from Legislative Labor News of October 10, 1910:

GOV. HUGHES, GREATEST FRIEND OF LABOR

The Legislative Labor News, of New York, Oct. 10, 1910, had the following:

"Now that Governor Hughes has retired from politics and ascended to a place on the highest judicial tribunal in the world, the fact can be acknowledged without hurting anybody's political corns, that he was the greatest friend of labor laws that ever occupied the governor's chair at Albany. During his two terms he has signed 56 labor laws, including among them the best labor laws ever enacted in this or any other state. He also urged the enactment of labor laws in his message to the legislature, even going so far as to place the demand for a labor law in one of his messages to an extra session of the legislature.

"Only 182 labor laws have been enacted in this state since its erection in 1777—in 133 years. One-third of these, exceeding in quality all of the others, has been enacted and signed during Governor Hughes' term of three years and nine months.

"With such a record of approval and suggestion of progressive legislation in the interest of humanity to his credit, it is easy to believe that human rights will have a steadfast and sympathetic upholder in the justice of the Supreme Court of the United States."

MONSTER PARADE FEATURE OF HARDING RALLY FRIDAY

For the first time in many years Portsmouth will have a torchlight parade Friday night.

This parade, in which several thousand Republicans expect to take part, will precede a big Republican rally which will be held at Distel hall Seventh and Chillicothe streets. At this rally Hon. Warren G. Harding, one of Ohio's foremost Republicans and orators, will deliver the principal address.

Four brass bands have been engaged for the parade, the River City band, the Portsmouth band, the Buckeye band and the Junior Order United American Mechanics band. There will be four divisions.

The Hughes Booster club which is composed of the employees of the Whitaker-Glessner company, has guaranteed fifteen hundred men.

Red fire, large banners, blazing torches, bands and enthusiastic marchers will be the features of the parade. Delegations from every precinct in the county are expected.

All Republicans not belonging to the Hughes Booster Club of the steel company will form on Sixth street, facing west promptly at seven o'clock. The members of the Hughes Booster club will form on Gallia street near the N. & W. freight depot at the same hour. The Booster club delegation will march west on Gallia street to Waller and then out Waller, coming to a stop at the N. & W. depot.

The Republicans forming on Sixth street will march around the postoffice, and east on Gallia street, to Waller street and north on Waller street. The members of the Hughes Booster club will be on the east side of Waller street and the Republicans, who formed on Sixth street will be on the west side.

At seven thirty o'clock Senator Warren G. Harding will arrive and will be met by a reception committee. He will be escorted down through the lines of cheering Republicans to the reviewing stand which will be erected on the Gallia street esplanade, and there will review the marchers.

The two separate divisions will then unite, the Republicans on the west side marching out first and march in review down Gallia street to Chillicothe street thence out to the hall, Seventh and Chillicothe street.

A large delegation of business men has been planned. This representation will be headed by one of the bands.

The permanent chairman and the vice presidents and the reception committee will be named by Chairman John F. Eckhart.

Girl Attacked By Brute Who Drove Escort Away With Gun

South Portsmouth and vicinity were thrown into a fever of excitement when the news spread that Miss Evelyn Brown, a pretty sixteen-year-old Beattyville girl, had been attacked by a man while on her way home Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

The attempted assault, for which John Fultz, of this city, is held prisoner in the Portsmouth police station, occurred on the "common" a short distance below the C. & O. passenger depot.

In South Portsmouth and although the moon was shining brightly, began fearing for her safety. She asked Charles Edgington, aged 19, a shoemaker, who was standing on the depot platform to escort her home. They started down the tracks and had gotten but a short distance when a man emerged from behind a box car, grabbing the girl by the arm and jerking her aside, he whirled around to in front of Edgington and pressing a gun to his breast Edgington, thoroughly frightened, ran from the scene while the man dragged the girl from the main track, across some sidings and fully 100 feet to behind a cut of box cars, where she fought desperately to preserve her honor. She had been carrying a crochet needle in her hand and with this she defended herself, jabbing him with the sharp point, biting him and screaming whenever he momentarily removed his hand from over her mouth.

Edgington meanwhile had reached the depot and given the alarm. A crowd started to the rescue of the girl and at its approach the brute released his hold on the girl and disappeared over the river bank. The girl now regained her feet and returned to the track. The spot where she showed evidence of a struggle. Her hat, completely mashed, lay nearby. Her face was badly scratched and her throat showed the imprints of her would-be assailant's fingers, he having tried to choke her. Friends now took her to the home of her stepfather, James Thompson, in the lower end of Beattyville. Squire James Braden, of Fullerton, was notified.

He quickly formed a posse and searched the river bank from Fullerton to Beattyville. He then secured a description of the fellow and said he recognized from the same that it was John Fultz, whom he had under arrest once before for drunkenness and fighting at the depot. He asked the Portsmouth authorities to assist in the search. The squire then visited the girl at her home and after interviewing her secured her affidavit, charging Fultz with attempt to rape.

Fultz was arrested by Capt. Rohan Walker within thirty minutes after he got the word. He saw two men walking out Chillicothe street and thought one of them closely fitted the description. They turned east on Third and began quickening their steps, but Walker overtook them. They proved to be John Fultz and his brother, Alvin Fultz. Squire Braden learned of the capture when he returned to the depot and he brought Edgington to this side. Edgington promptly picked out John Fultz as the man.

Constable John Williams brought the girl to the police station Thursday morning and she positively identified John Fultz as the person who attacked her. Fultz refused to return to Kentucky without requisition papers, and Constable Williams will leave for Frankfort this afternoon to secure the same. Squire Braden said a mob formed at South Portsmouth, and had the girl's assailant fallen into its hands he would undoubtedly have been lynched. "Of course, had my men captured him, we would have avoided violence, for we had enough in number to protect him." The squire said the girl bears a most excellent reputation. The local police officials say Fultz has been arrested in Portsmouth a number of times for various offenses and that he is a shiftless and dangerous person. He refused to return to South Portsmouth Wednesday night, they say, but had promised to do so Thursday morning.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Dr. J. C. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicine. It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of emetics, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves, but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher.

A Great Loss and a Greater Gain

This business has rounded out twenty-two months of existence by distributing to owners more than one hundred thousand cars.

Price-concessions on this car are rarely asked, and never given with Dodge Brothers' consent or to their knowledge.

You can therefore figure accurately the amount invested by the public in Dodge Brothers' cars, by multiplying the output by the retail selling price. One hundred thousand cars at $785 per car means a sales-total in less than two years' time of $78,500,000—or, with freight-cost added, considerably more than $80,000,000.

There have been no bursts of speed in the up-building of this great business.

At no time has there been even an attempt at stimulation of sales or of production.

Never for a single day has production been speeded up for the sake of attaining a total.

On the contrary, it has been held down every day within the limits of close, careful, conscientious manufacturing.

Both production and sales have been stable, steady and spontaneous—scrupulous care in the one, producing huge volume in the other.

At this moment, as at every other period, although producing a large volume every day, Dodge Brothers are "losing business" by their policy of keeping production within the bounds of continuous betterment.

In that sense they have doubtless suffered a great loss in the past and will endure a great loss in the future.

But over against this great loss is an infinitely greater gain. The people of the United States have implicit faith in the integrity of Dodge Brothers' manufacturing methods.

One hundred thousand owners—or, rather, one hundred thousand families—are of one mind concerning the car and the men who make it. This business and its product are blessed with a friendship probably without parallel in the history of American manufacturing.

Fresh from the factory, or sold at second-hand, from one end of the nation to the other, the car has special value and a special reputation, because of the name it bears.

Because of the name it bears, you may be sure that the principle behind the car will never be changed a hair's breadth.

Dodge Brothers have only one idea in the upholding of their business.

That idea is to build so soundly and so well that the goodwill which they have won will grow and endure forever.

GERMANS EVACUATE FORT VAUX

BREMEN LEFT AUGUST 26; MUST HAVE STRUCK MINE

New London, Conn., Nov. 2.—Ten million dollars worth of dyestuffs and drugs, and it was said "possibly stocks, bonds and precious stones," comprise the cargo of the German submarine merchantman Deutschland, according to a statement by Captain Paul Koenig, commander of the craft.

First of the under-sea merchantmen by use of which Germany hopes to keep open a trade route with the United States, the Deutschland, according to her captain, is at present the only submarine of that fleet. The Bremen, which started a voyage from the city after which she was named on August 26, he said, has been given up as lost. He thought she "must have struck a mine," but he added, "she has not fallen a victim to this almost blockade."

The Amerika, which some reports have indicated was a merchant submarine captured by the British, never existed, Captain Koenig asserted.

Describing a visit to the German army headquarters on the east front, where he was the guest of the Kaiser at dinner, Captain Koenig said he found the emperor in good health, "a little white and drawn, but not at all weak." He found the German people during his stay, he said, believing the war would last at least another year.

New London, Conn., Nov. 2.—Activities of varied nature centered about the German under-sea merchantman Deutschland and her captain, Paul Koenig, today. While the crew busied themselves holding the barrier which hid the submarine from public view, in preparing to dispose of the 700 tons of valuable cargo which the Deutschland brought from Bremen, customs officials and naval officers prepared for the inquiry to determine that status of the craft.

The Deutschland has been entered as a commercial vessel, but to make certain that every neutrality provision has been observed, an inspection by both naval and customs officials was decided upon at Washington. Commander Yates Stirling, who is head of the naval station here arranged to go aboard with his aides in conjunction with James McGovern, collector of customs of this district. The latter had conferred last night with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, who was at Hartford, regarding the questions involved in the Deutschland's reappearance.

New London's citizens made plans for a public welcome to the Deutschland's captain and her crew. President Alton B. Miner of the local chamber of commerce, with Mayor E. B. Rogers and a delegation of business men, tendered Captain Koenig an invitation to a dinner at a date to be set by him. It was said that he had accepted, although stating it was with reluctance.

The announcement of the Deutschland's manifest was awaited with some curiosity. Captain Koenig estimating the cargo to total $10,000,000 in value said it consisted largely of drugs and dyestuffs, but said there were possibly securities and jewels among the consignments.

As the Deutschland on her trip to Baltimore carried only $1,500,000 worth of freight which bulked as large as her present shipments, it was considered probable that most of the $10,000,000 valuation was represented by securities or stones.

Henry G. Hilken, of Baltimore, president of the Eastern Forwarding company, agents for the submarine freight service, said today he was without exact information on this subject. With Dr. George Ahrens, an attaché of the German embassy, president Hilken went aboard the Deutschland this morning to greet her returned skipper.

The Deutschland's captain refused a plea that he would allow the public to view his craft. None but government or city officials might enter the enclosure, he said, and the restrictions that prevailed at Baltimore were placed in effect again.

CARLSTROM ON AIR TRIP FROM CHICAGO TO NEW YORK CITY

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Victor Carlstrom, aviator, left Chicago at 6:09 this morning on an air-journey to New York, announcing his intention to have dinner in that city. The start was made from the flying field of the Aero Club of Illinois, and Carlstrom immediately launched upon a route due east following the right of way of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad.

The aviator expects to make the trip without stopping. He is carrying a sack of mail, made up of letters from city officials of Chicago to officials at New York. Included are several communications said to be destined for the Deutschland, at New London, Conn.

Carlstrom has a special appointment as aerial letter carrier. His trip is being made under the auspices of a New York newspaper.

FRENCH TAKE STRONGHOLD

(Bulletin)
Berlin, Nov. 2.—(By wireless to Sayville)—The British attempted to advance on the Somme front north of Courcellette yesterday but were repulsed, the war office announced today. The French gained small advantages in the sectors of Les Boeufs and Rancourt.

Port Vaux, on the Verdun front has been evacuated by the Germans.

SIX AMERICANS ARE LOST ON THE MARINA

London, Nov. 2.—A telegram to the American embassy today from Wesley Frost, American consul at Queenstown, states that discrepancies in former reports regarding the number of Americans on board the British steamer Marina and the names of those lost have now been cleared up. In addition to the five Americans reported yesterday as having been lost, the name of Baile, given in earlier advices as Bruc, is added to the list of dead. The name of Middletown, first reported lost, is to have been re-routed from Cincinnati to Wheeling, going by way of Chillicothe, over the Baltimore and Ohio.

These changes make the total number of Americans on board 52, of whom six were lost.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 2.—The Hughes women's special train, which was scheduled to stop at Columbus for four hours Thursday morning, was cancelled. The special is said to have been re-routed from Cincinnati to Wheeling, going by way of Chillicothe, over the Baltimore and Ohio.

Lieutenant Sakharoff is rated as one of the ablest Russian commanders. He came into special prominence last summer during the Russian drive in Volhynia and Galicia, gaining a number of important successes over the Austrians before the Russian advance was halted.

New York, Nov. 2.—The European war is held responsible for the increase in the cost of burial supplies and a consequent advance announced today by undertakers for funeral services. Owing to the war, it was said, "undertakers' hardware"—name plates and coffin handles—has risen in price from 20 to 40 percent, due to the fact, the supply men claim, that the chemicals used to give the nickel effect is not now being imported. It is estimated that even the cheapest coffins cost $5 more than formerly.

Wholesale dealers in burial supplies have notified undertakers throughout the city of a general advance in the trade. To offset the advance, the undertakers are considering the advisability of entering upon a campaign in favor of cremation.

THE OTHER FRIENDS

In discussing forcible interference of this country in Mexican affairs, it seems there is one consideration against it that is not commonly given the accent its broad importance deserves. This is nothing more nor less than the impression interference would have on the other nations of the two Americas and so upon our own commercial welfare for the future. There is some suspicion, it may be confessed considerable uneasiness in the Central and South American republics against this country because of its assumption that it is the guardian of all of them, an assumption, however well intended and best, is not always considerably carried. In the delicate way known to diplomacy they have given intimation that armed intermeddling with Mexico will be regarded as unfriendly to them. This is a point any administration should, and, no doubt do, consider most carefully and kindly. Mexico is an irritant, but it has so far appeared to be the wiser policy and is likely to continue to be to deal with her patiently. If she were alone the factor of accountability it would not be of such consequence what course towards her was pursued, but there is much more involved for us, the confidence and good will of nations that are entering upon a development as marvelous as our own and whose friendship and confidence will be of ever increasing importance. We do not mean solely in a trade or commercial source, but in that higher sphere of peace and amity that is as desirable and helpful among nations as it is among individuals.

Coupled with this the policy of non-intervention is beginning to make its beneficence and benefits apparent. Some sort of government has established itself, a large part of her harried and unhappy people are again experiencing order and peace, business in a large measure is running unmolested, enterprise and investment are proceeding to great proportions and churches and religious sects are no longer the prey and victims of marauders and bandits, in those sections over which the Carranza administration has control. The beginning of the end of one of the saddest and darkest travail through which a people ever burdened and groaned and died appears to be fair upon its way.

THE NAMING OF BATTLERS

We are not blaming Huntington for expression of pride in the fact that a war vessel of some sort has been named for her, nor are we anywise envious. At the same time, however, we rather regret the departure from the old custom of naming battles after a section or river that seemed to have more inspiration than the commonplace titles taken from towns. As some one puts it there is picturesque possibilities in the old naval names of Merrihue, Alabama, Chesapeake, Kearsage, Susquehanna, Wabash, Niagara, Monongahela, Cumberland and Santee. But above all think of the glory and the patriotism that abide in such titles as the Constitution and Constellation. There is something in the very sound of quainter names that move to courage and action. Somehow one feels a man could fight longer and better aboard them than he could if sailing on the Parkersburg or the Circleville.

Some plunger in Columbus has bet $2,000 to $5,000 that Hamilton county will not go for Hughes, which shows one of two things, that you can't keep some fellows from parting with their good money, or that these partisan claims are all rank pretenses. For our part we are inclined, in the special instance at hand, to believe the former, though we have more than a healthy suspicion as to the accuracy of the latter.

Things are indeed coming to a pretty pass when a man isn't allowed to believe he did so and so when he knows he did. Twelve of the committee of seventeen that drew up the National Progressive platform issued a signed statement setting forth their reasons for supporting Woodrow Wilson, but the Republican national committee issues a bulletin saying they didn't do anything of the sort. Meanwhile, how are the people to know where they are themselves?

Some one sent in word, this week, that Sciotoville would like to be annexed to Portsmouth. Good; as the lady next door says she would be a thousand times welcome, but, mind you, she can never come in so long as her neighbor, New Boston, blocks the way. Neither can Wheelersburg.

Taft says we are now in the gravest crisis since the war, with the possible exception of 1896. He also has generally, specifically and personally commended Wilson for the wisdom with which the crisis was being handled. Thanks for "them kind words, Professor, many thanks."

Of course, a voluntary increase of wages given to the West Virginia miners is further evidence of the awful havoc free trade is wreaking upon every industry.

The fact that the canny politicians are beginning to use the newspapers more and more in advertising is some proof that it pays to advertise.

On the street and in the offices one hears that the building associations have experienced an unusually prosperous year. It is the best thing one can hear for it means more homes earned and in turn that means a better town.

BACK AGAIN

SOON WILL BE KNOWN

One of the best indications that the campaign is scarcely making a ripple with the ordinary run of affairs are the inquiries we receive and the talk about The Times corn growing contest. Of course, there is no telling who will be the winner, we do not even know who apparently stands the best chance of taking down the $50 in gold, and the fortunate one will not be named until about the first of December, and maybe later, depending upon the promptness with which the reports of the contestants are submitted.

Some of the contestants met, this year, the misfortune that was the portion of others last, a storm damaging their acre so badly as to put them entirely out, but still there are more left than the total entries of 1915. If claims can be relied on there will be distinct gains in yields recorded in that contest. The best feature of all is the contestants are more widely scattered, representing various sections of the county and so making a competition that will be more representative and more valuable.

For today let it be said to New Boston that she is invited to walk right in, take off her bonnet and make herself at home for ever and aye.

As yet we have no word of the operations of the official effort that was going to be made to stop speeding on the highways.

Nothing like being used to a thing. The temporary road along the paving on the West Side is not an unadmitted joy, but none are complaining. All have been there before more so and haven't forgot.

The public is said to be keeping out of Wall Street, which is palpable and cheering evidence that the public is getting wise.

Sinking a ship, even though she be a submarine, months before she sails, seems to have both disappointment and drawback.

Was there ever such weather. Again we say yes; we have this identical kind right here, ever since the Peerless was founded some hundred and fifteen years ago. The kind was allowed in anticipation of the brick paving to be done.

Less than a week off now and both sides are beginning to show nervousness.

Koot-Poots

(By J. F. D. and Shonk)

A child once went to the store with his mother. He handled the toys and was so much better. The proprietor said, "Never bring him again. Unless he's asleep, or handcuffed or chained." But the next time she took him, the storeman said, "My! What a change in that boy!" He's a Koot Poot, that's why!

Fingers Mashed

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

New York, Nov. 2—
Excepting.
The day my father.
Smelled sweet cider.
On my breath.
And said I was going.
To the dogs.
Wednesday.
Was the saddest day.
I've ever known.
I saw a dozen die.
In a movie show.
The first was.
A fair-haired child.
On a mountain side.
And the father buried in.
And went insane.
And ran all over the mountain.
And jumped from peak to peak.
And later on.
They caught him.
And took him home.
And he was standing.
In front of his hut.
Taking morning exercises.
In deep breaths.
And a villain came along.
With smooth tongue.
And city ways.
And shot him.
And they buried him.
And then.
Someone killed the villain.
All the while.
The orchestra played:
"You're a doggone dangerous girl."
She must have been.

To cause all of that.
Fearful bloodshed.
Some day I'm going.
To write a movie play.
And no one will be shot.
And the people will pay.
And they will cheer.
And I'll be famous and rich.
And everything.
Then I'll go back home.
And dress all up like.
Astor's pet horse.
And wear spats and say:
"Look, father! Here's
Your favored child.
Who was going to the dogs."
And he'll forget all
About that money.
I used to borrow.

When The Guests Are Gone
Will you have a cup of tea, Dolly?
And a bit of candy, too?
It's the best we had and I'm very glad
That some was left for you.

Oh, yes, we had a lovely party.
And I like them all, you know;
But when it's through I'm glad
That you
Are not the one to go.

You never cry or scold, Dolly,
Nor upset what I've planned;
I never heard you speak a word,
But I know you understand!

So have a cup of tea, Dolly.
And cake and candy, too;
The best of fun when the party's
done
Is my little chat with you.

Town Gals are Sickly

During a recent dance in the Rumpus Ridge neighborhood, in Arkansas, the usual fight took place among the attending swains. There was considerable shooting and some bloodshed. The battle was regarded with equanimity by most of the beauties present, but one girl, a stranger to the greater part of the assemblage, swooned. "Who was it that fainted away?" asked Miss Duckie Burdner a little later. "Don't know," replied Miss Pearl Smithers. "Some town gal, I reckon; they're most all sickly." —Kansas City Star.

Mourning Bands

A little girl was greatly interested in watching the men in her father's orchard putting bands of tar around the fruit trees to prevent ground insects from crawling up, and asked a great many questions. Some weeks later, when out with her mother, she noticed a gentleman with a mourning band around his left sleeve. "Mother," she said, "what's to keep them from crawling up his other arm?"

Coming Down the Avenue
The measles were making their annual round of the juvenile population of the community. And Flossie was very much vexed because she didn't catch them. She felt that a nice little vacation was being denied her. One day she came rushing into the school room, clapping her hands with delight. "Oh, Miss Nichols! They're coming down the avenue." "Who?" asked her teacher, hurrying to the window and looking for—she knew not what. "The measles! Bessy Tubbs, right on the corner, has just got them and now it'll be my turn next!"

DEMOCRATS PLANNING FOR RECORD RALLY TONIGHT

The Democrats of Scioto county will gather in Distel Hall, Seventh and Chillicothe streets, this evening at 7:30 o'clock to take part in a big demonstration and to hear the issues of the campaign discussed by brilliant speakers.

Hon. Charles A. Towne,

former United States senator of Minnesota, and now corporation counsel of New York City, who is considered one of the best orators in the country, will discuss the national issues. For clear, concise, logic, splendid oratory and humor, Mr. Towne has few equals. Serving in the United States senate for years, then becoming chief attorney for New York City with its millions of people, he has been given a chance to gain a deep insight into the operations of the government.

Hon. Thomas J. Duffy, member of the Ohio Industrial Commission, Columbus, an able speaker and experienced with labor questions and the Workmen's Compensation Law, will explain the state issues. Mr. Duffy is the labor member of the Industrial Commission.

The third speaker is Hon. A. G. Turnipseed, West Union, Democratic candidate for congress from the Sixth district, who will talk about district and state issues. Mr. Turnipseed's ability as an orator is well known in this city for he has been the principal speaker at several meetings here.

Ex-Senator J. I. Hudson has been chosen to act as chairman of the rally. Committees on decorations and reception have been selected. Those who will welcome Senator Towne are: Vallee Harold, Judge James S. Thomas, Adam Frick, W. A. Inman, and David Stahl. For Hon. Thomas J. Duffy: Victor M. Howland, Robert Callahan, Ed Westphal, Richard Barry, Sr., and Henry Uhl, Jr. For Hon. A. G.

Turnipseed: Conrad Roth, W. B. Richardson, Philip Jacobs, William Bennett and George C. Lander.

The committee on decorations is: James R. Distel, Eugene Wurster, Joseph Kountz, O. L. Thuma and Julius Baesman.

Should any of the speakers arrive in the city this afternoon, the River City Band, which has been engaged for the occasion, will meet them at the Washington Hotel this evening and escort them to the hall.

Democrats from all sections of the county and adjoining counties are expected to attend the enthusiastic rally.

Negro Wanted On Theft Charge Found Snoozing In Bleak Cabin

"Massa Gray is my name, sah!" declared Hosea Gray, a Southern negro, as Sheriff E. W. Smith stepped into a deserted cabin near Book, on the West Side, late Wednesday afternoon. Beneath the negro's head was a half-filled whiskey bottle, and he lazily declared that he had been asleep.

Gray and a negro named John Allen came to Portsmouth, Tuesday morning from Waverly and rented a room at the old Alex. Davis place, Eleventh street. When Gray and his pal sought their bed Tuesday night they found another negro named Jeff Lee there. The three became friends and then went to bed. Gray left before the other two had awakened and took with him a suit of clothes belonging to Lee and $7.75 belonging to Allen, and the sheriff was soon notified.

Wednesday afternoon Sheriff Smith learned that Gray was occupying a deserted cabin on the West Side. When the officer got there, he found the doors nailed and the windows locked. But at one end a board had been pried loose, and a peek within brought the salutation from the occupant.

When Sheriff Smith searched Gray he found an ugly looking dirt and the money claimed by Allen. The negro was wearing the suit of clothes belonging to Lee at the time of his arrest.

Gray was lodged in the county jail.

MONSTER PARADE FEATURE OF HARDING RALLY FRIDAY

For the first time in many years Portsmouth will have a torchlight parade Friday night.

This parade, in which several thousand Republicans expect to take part, will precede a big Republican rally which will be held at Distel hall, Seventh and Chillicothe streets. At this rally Hon. Warren G. Harding, one of Ohio's foremost Republicans and orators, will deliver the principal address.

Four brass bands have been engaged for the parade, the River City band, the Portsmouth band, the Buckeye band and the Junior Order United American Mechanics band. There will be four divisions.

The Hughes Booster club which is composed of the employees of the Whitaker-Glessner company, has guaranteed fifteen hundred men.

Red fire, large banners, blazing torches, bands and enthusiastic marchers will be the features of the parade. Delegations from every precinct in the county are expected.

All Republicans not belonging to the Hughes Booster Club of the steel company will form on Sixth street, facing west promptly at seven o'clock. The members of the Hughes Booster club will form on Gallia street near the N. & W. freight depot at the same hour. The Booster club delegation will march west on Gallia street to Waller and then out Waller, coming to a stop at the N. & W. depot.

The Republicans forming on Sixth street will march around the postoffice and east on Gallia street to Waller street and north on Waller street. The members of the Hughes Booster club will be on the east side of Waller street and the Republicans, who formed on Sixth street will be on the west side.

At seven thirty o'clock

Senator Warren G. Harding will arrive and will be met by a reception committee. He will be escorted down through the lines of cheering Republicans to the reviewing stand which will be erected on the Gallia street esplanade, and there will review the marchers.

The two separate divisions will then unite, the Republicans on the west side marching out first and march in review down Gallia street to Chillicothe street thence out to the hall, Seventh and Chillicothe street.

A large delegation of business men has been planned. This representation will be headed by one of the bands. The permanent chairman and the vice presidents and the reception committee will be named by Chairman John F. Eckhart.

HUGHES TO WILSON TO CLOSE IN SPEAK IN HOMESTATE NEW YORK

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Charles E. Hughes came back to his home state of New York today to wind up his presidential campaign. His program today carried him over familiar ground, from Batavia and enigmatically in the western section of the state, through Central New York to Albany where he will speak tonight.

The nominee's special train passed through Buffalo this forenoon, en route to Batavia, a 13 hours' ride from Terre Haute, Indiana, where he finished his campaign in the Middle West last night. The day's program called for an address at Batavia shortly before noon, a round platform talk at Oneida, an hour's stay at Schenectady, where the nominee will deliver a speech late today, another address at Troy tonight and the chief address of the evening at Albany. Mr. Hughes will reach Albany at 8:29 tonight. It was the nominee's last day, but one of campaigning and he was apparently in excellent trim.

Tomorrow the program calls for speeches along the valley of the Hudson, ending with his arrival at New York.

New York, Nov. 2.—President Wilson arrived here this morning from his campaign trip up state. He was taken by automobile across town to the Hudson river and embarked aboard the government yacht Mayflower.

New York, Nov. 2.—The stage is all set to make President Wilson's visit here today the climax of the Democratic campaign in New York City. It is the President's first and only public appearance here in his campaign for reelection. The Democratic candidate will make several speeches, the principal one at Madison Square Garden tonight. Following the address at the Garden, the president will speak at Cooper Union and possibly address an evening meeting in Cooper Square. His first address after his arrival from Albany this morning will be at the luncheon of the Wilson Business League. In the afternoon he will visit the Sixty-Ninth Regiment Bazaar.

In connection with the Madison Square Garden rally, Democratic organizations have arranged for several great parades, a feature of which will be the appearance of a large number of boys not yet of voting age, accompanying each district at a lively rate. MANUFACTURERS ARE SEEKING TO PURCHASE COAL

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 2.—Frantic efforts are being made by a number of important manufacturing interests in the district to secure emergency coal supplies before navigation closes on the Monongahela river by buying the production of independent mines that are connected with their plants by water transportation.

Many of the mills have their own coal mines and in ordinary times they are able to meet all requirements, but with the coal shortage already amounting almost to a famine and nothing better in sight for perhaps months, the companies are piling all the coal they can secure. This situation is further complicated by the determination of natural gas companies to cut off all factories, should the fuel be needed to supply domestic consumers.

Railroads also are endeavoring to increase their reserve supplies of fuel, some of them shipping coal into the district from southern and western points.

The luncheon of the Wilson Business Men's League is of a national character with representatives from many states. The speakers include David F. Houston, Secretary of Agriculture, and Charles R. Crane, president of the league, who presides. Those who will occupy seats at the president's table are Governor James F. Fielder, of New Jersey; former governor David I. Walsh and W. L. Douglas, of Massachusetts; former governor Emmett O'Neill, of Alabama; Mayor Mitchell, of New York; Cleveland H. Dodge, Colonel E. M. House, W. L. Saunders and Jacob H. Schiff. There will also be delegations of business men from various sections of the country. It is announced that the president in his speech will deal with the policies of his administration having a direct bearing upon the business interests of the country.

William Church Osborn will preside at the meeting at Madison Square Garden. The only other speaker will be Martin H. Glynn, former governor of New York.

HANLY IS COMING TO OHIO

Columbus, O., Nov. 2.—J. Frank Hanly, of Indiana, Prohibition party candidate for president, enters Ohio today at Belleair on the last lap of a campaign tour in a special train, having covered 32 states and visited 450 cities and villages. Hanly speaks at Columbus for a speech on the west steps of the state house at 7:45 o'clock tomorrow morning. Continuing across Ohio for his home state of Indiana, where he winds up his campaign, Hanly has engagements Friday at London, South Charleston, Xenia and Eaton. He speaks at Fort Wayne, Indiana, Friday night. Accompanying Hanly is Ira Landrith, candidate for vice-president, and Clinton N. Howard, of Rochester, New York.

CUTTING AFFRAY IS SEQUEL OF ARGUMENT

Following an argument which resulted over a card game, Ed Conley was seriously cut by a man answering to the name of George Cook, according to information furnished Sheriff E. W. Smith Wednesday evening.

The affray occurred late Wednesday afternoon in Turkey Hollow, New Boston.

The wounded man was taken to the office of Dr. W. G. Cheney by friends and his injuries were dressed. Seven stitches were taken in a gaping wound on the left side of the man's neck and several stitches were required to close small wounds over his left eye and on his back.

Shortly after the cutting, George Cook, the authorities say, left. Sheriff E. W. Smith immediately went to the scene and with the New Boston officials maintained a close watch for several hours, but failed to locate their man.

Conley was taken to his home after his injuries were dressed. He was reported better Thursday morning.

William S. Hart in "The Patriot" Columbia Today

Night photography, of a degree of excellence that rarely has been approached in the history of the motion picture industry, is said to stand out prominently in various parts of "The Patriot," the thrilling Triangle-Ince drama by Monte M. Katterjohn, which will be seen at the Columbia today with Wm. S. Hart in the title role.

One of the truly remarkable effects, it is claimed, is that of the moon arising majestically over the plains of Mexico while a sentry paces in silhouette, to and fro, and a detachment of American cavalry rides along the international boundary line. To obtain this effect, and guard against "fakiness," the Hart company, engaged in filming the play, spent an entire night near its encampment at Calexico, where a majority of the scenes were enacted.

Another impressive night scene is that which depicts the American troops seated about their bonfires, just before "taps." In this the flickering flames bring out the features of the men in bold contrast against the inky black background intermittently illuminating the tents as well.

Still another commendable piece of night photography is provided by the scene which shows the tents of the soldiers illuminated within. A bugler suddenly appears in relief against the canvas of one, and blowing "taps," sounds the signal for the extinguishing of the lights.

One by one, the lights disappear, until only darkness remains, punctuated faintly, however, by the glowing embers of the campfires. The photographic achievements of "The Patriot" are accredited to Cameran Joe August.

Girl Attacked By Brute Who Drove Escort Away With Gun

South Portsmouth and vicinity. Miss Brown had been to a store were thrown into a fever of excitement when the news spread the moon was shining brightly. Edgington, thoroughly frightened, ran from the scene while the man dragged the girl from the main track, across some sidings and fully 100 feet to behind a cut of box cars, where she landed desperately to preserve her honor. She had been carrying a crocheted needle in her hand and with this she defended herself, jabbing him with the sharp point, hitting him and screaming when he momentarily removed his hand from over her mouth.

Edgington, meanwhile, had reached the depot and given the alarm. A crowd started to the rescue of the girl and at its approach the brute released his hold on the girl and disappeared over the river bank. The girl now regained her feet and returned to the track. The spot where she had been thrown to the ground showed evidence of a struggle. Her hat, completely smashed, lay nearby. Her face was badly scratched and her throat showed the imprints of her would-be assailant's fingers, he having tried to choke her. Friends now took her to the home of her stepfather, James Thompson, in the lower end of Beattyville. Squire Braden, of Pullerton, was notified.

He quickly formed a posse and searched the river bank from Pullerton to Beattyville. He then secured a description of the fellow and said he recognized from the same that it was John Fultz, whom he had under arrest once before for drunkenness and fighting at the depot. He asked the Portsmouth authorities to assist in the search. The squire then visited the girl at her home and after interviewing her secured her affidavit, charging Fultz with attempt to rape.

Fultz was arrested by Capt. Roman Walker within thirty minutes after he got the word. He saw two men walking out Chillicothe street and thought one of them closely fitted the description. They turned east on Third and began quickening their steps, but Walker overtook them. They proved to be John Fultz and his brother, Alvin Fultz. Squire Braden learned of the capture when he returned to the depot and he brought Edgington to this side. Edgington promptly picked out John Fultz as the man.

Constable John Williams brought the girl to the police station Thursday morning and she positively identified John Fultz as the person who attached her. Fultz refused to return to Kentucky without requisition papers, and Constable Williams will leave for Frankfort this afternoon to secure the same.

Squire Braden said a mob formed at South Portsmouth, and had the girl's assailant fallen into its hands he would undoubtedly have been lynched. "Of course, had my men leapt upon him, we would have avoided violence, for we had enough in number to protect him." The squire said the girl bears a most excellent reputation.
